John G. Erickson, 1901 Lake Shore Drive, Escanaba, attorney and chairman of the Delta County Republican Committee, today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Congress from the 11th district.

Attorney Erickson is seeking the congressional seat to be vacated by Rep. Charles E. Potter, of Cheboygan, who has announced his candidacy for the United States Senate.

Assistant To Prosecutor

Erickson was graduated from the Escanaba High School in 1924, where he was president of his class two years. He was captain of the Escanaba High School track team in 1924. He attended Michigan State College from 1924-28 and received his law degree from the University of North Dakota in 1932.

He was assistant prosecuting attorney of Delta County in 1933 and was title attorney for the U. S. department of Agriculture from 1934-37. He has conducted a law practice in Escanaba continuously since 1937, except for 1943-45 when he served in the United States Navy.

Stationed On Minesweeper

He served on a mine sweeper in the Pacific from 1943 to the end of the war, participating in naval operations at Saipan, Tinian, Leyte Gulf, Lingayen Gulf and Iwo Jima, for which he received the Asiatic-Pacific ribbon with five stars, and the Philippine Liberation ribbon with two stars.

Attorney Erickson is a member of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, past commodore of the Escanaba Yacht Club and has served in all of the offices in the Delta County Bar Association. He has been chairman of the Delta County Republican Committee since his election in 1950.

He is 45 years old, born in Escanaba April 8, 1906. He is married and has one child, a daughter.

Flood Ravaged Midwest Areas Wait For Worst

OMAHA—(AP)—The mightiest flood crest in the history of the rampaging Missouri river was due to throw its full weight against the dikes of Omaha and Council Bluffs, Ia., tonight.

For a week the Twin Cities had been preparing for the worst. They had marshalled armies of men with fleets of trucks and heavy earth-moving equipment to raise dikes and build auxiliary levees behind them.

Nearly 40,000 Leave

From threatened areas of the two cities nearly 40,000 persons had been evacuated. Full-blown Civilian Defense organizations functioned in the face of disaster. Some 8,000 troops had joined the flood fight.

The peril which had mounted day by day would reach its climax with the arrival of the crest.

Still-rising waters prompted watchful waiting in other areas of the flood-ravaged midwest. As the floods surged southward, thousands turned from the levees to the great tasks of rehabilitation.

Two Drowned

The Missouri, the Mississippi, the Milk in Montana, the Red River of the North in Minnesota and the Minnesota River all have hit with punishing blows and have a lot left to deal out.

At least two persons had died in the floods.

Last night, Mrs. Rosemary Mohr, 28, was being rowed to her home in St. Paul's west side by volunteer ferryman Ed Thielen when the boat capsized. Neighbors heard Thielen's cries and pulled him out but were unable to find Mrs. Mohr in the darkness. Her body was recovered later from 7 feet of Mississippi River flood water.

On April 6, William J. Red Boy, 24, of Poplar, Mont., drowned in the Cannonball River, a tributary of the Missouri, south of Bismarck, N. D. Floodwaters on the tributary were fore-runners on the main stream flood.

Mrs. Mohr's death came at the height of the flood at St. Paul. The Mississippi crested there yesterday at 22.2 feet. Early today army engineers said it appeared to be falling slightly.

The misery dealing Missouri, having sent thousands of families hiking for high ground in one of its worst rampages, was beating at the metropolitan Omaha-Council

Steel Workers Impatient For Government Pay Raise

Senators Voice Disapproval Of Truman Seizure

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Senate may be asked today to show its disapproval of President Truman's seizure of the steel industry by voting against use of certain funds to enforce the order.

A group of Republican senators yesterday sought to force a showdown on the question by offering an amendment to a deficiency appropriations bill barring use of any part of its $960,641,000 funds to enforce the order which put control of the steel industry under the secretary of commerce.

Blamed For Deadlock

Actually, none of the money requested by the President in the bill was for that purpose. The measure carries some funds for the commerce department but only for its aviation and highway activities.

However, minority leader Bridges (R-NH), one of the sponsors of the amendment, described it as "a vehicle Congress could use to express its disapproval of the President's action."

Truman was severely criticized yesterday by Sen. Bridges, for his steel seizure order. Bridges blamed the President for "helping create" the steel deadlock and raising "the gravest constitutional question since the war between the states."

Authority Challenged

Truman's opponents say he had no authority to seize the industry. The industry has filed half a dozen court suits making the same claim. But the government contends the President had ample seizure powers and that seizure was necessary to protect the nation's military position "during this period of national emergency."

Bridges led a group of Republican senators who sponsored a resolution calling for a full investigation by the Senate judiciary committee.

Chairborne Pilots And Pentagon Hazard Pay Criticized At Hearing

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) let fly again today at the Pentagon's "chairborne pilots" and at extra "hazard pay" that is not allowed to the infantry.

The Senate preparedness subcommittee gave him two hours to vent his feelings, and he said he would need at least that long.

Defense department officials denied vigorously at a public hearing yesterday that "chairborne pilots" collect extra hazard-pay allowances for joy riding aerial missions, as charged by Douglas in Senate speeches.

Chiefs Oppose Cut

Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, top Air Force general, and Vice Adm. J. H. Cassady, deputy chief of Naval Air Operations, both challenged Douglas' demands for a sharp cut in extra pay to airmen and men in the submarine and other services deemed extra hazardous.

Vandenberg told the subcommittee that the country's reserve of trained airmen already "is dangerously small." He predicted a cut would bring wholesale losses of skilled fliers which the country cannot afford. Cassady backed him up.

The hearings resulted from Senate amendment of a bill pro-

Ice-Breaker Fleet Breaks Up Jam In St. Mary's River

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich.—(AP)—An ice-breaking fleet has completed its mission of smashing ice floes that slowed navigation in St. Marys River.

Taking part in the operation were the cutters Mackinaw, Mesquite and Sundew, the tug Kaw and the car ferry St. Marie. The fleet had a rendezvous here yesterday. The Coast Guard cutter Arandel was already here for repair of a generator which was burned out while the craft was bucking ice floes last week.

A rise in the temperature also helped to ease ice conditions in the lower St. Marys.

Forests Spared On Tahquamenon

MILFORD, Mich.—(AP)—In a move to save the unspoiled appearance of the Tahquamenon Falls area, the Conservation Commission yesterday acquired 160 acres of virgin timber, saving it from threatened lumbering.

To get the land, the commission gave one of the owners, R. J. Beach of Newberry, 25-year permission to run the "Toonerville Trolley" to the river and docking privileges for his boats on the river. John Barrett, co-owner of the land, was given $2,000 and a two-acre parking lot a quarter-mile from the falls.

The Northwestern Veneer and Plywood Co. of Gladstone, owner of the lumbering rights on the land, was given $5,000 worth of over-mature timber to be taken from the land and timber cutting rights on 240 acres of state land some distance from the falls.

The commission reorganized for the coming year by electing commissioners Harold W. Glasen of Lansing as chairman and George A. Griffith of Grayling as vice-chairman. Glasen succeeds Richard H. Fletcher of Bay City.

Director G. E. Eddy and Secretary Fred P. Struhsaker were reappointed for one year-terms.

Industry Given Lashing By CIO Leader Murray

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Philip Murray's CIO Steelworkers were reported growing restive today under pay scales put into effect 17 months ago and the government was believed about ready to give them a raise.

How much and how soon were questions Secretary of Commerce Sawyer was not answering. Sawyer, boss of the seized industry, had a tentative date today with Murray and Benjamin Fairless, president of the U. S. Steel Corp. Sawyer met separately with the two men yesterday—presumably to lay the groundwork for a government imposed wage boost.

Corrupt Deal Charged

There was every indication, meanwhile, that Murray would lash the industry in a talk scheduled before the National Press Club (about 1:30 p. m. EST).

Murray has done no more than issue a short statement in answer to last week's attack from Clarence Randall, president of Inland Steel.

Randall said President Truman's seizure of the steel industry was a corrupt deal "that discharges a political debt to the CIO." He said that if any man threatened U. S. troops in Korea for lack of steel "that man's name is Phil Murray."

Murray called Randall's statement "a deliberate and malicious lie."

The CIO chief was fully expected to expand on that in today's off-the-cuff speech.

President Truman seized the industry eight days ago when repeated attempts to reach agreement on a new work contract failed. The union's scheduled strike was immediately called off.

The union is demanding a three-installment 17½ cent an hour wage boost, fringe benefits worth about 8½ cents and the union shop, which would require all workers to join the union.

Those are the settlement terms suggested by the Wage Stabilization Board, which studied the dispute for three months.

The industry's highest offer is 12½ cents in wages, five cents in fringes—and no union shop. The industry says it would need a price boost of $12 a ton—four times the increase the government says it will allow—to offset the union's demands.

Gov. Williams Gives His Good Luck Tie To Prince Bernhard

DETROIT—(AP)—Michigan Governor G. Mennen Williams expressed his admiration for Queen Juliana in political terms. He said:

"The Queen is an excellent campaigner and could run here for any office."

"But she probably never will," he added.

The governor accompanied the royal couple yesterday on their train journey back to Detroit from Western Michigan in a special four car Chesapeake and Ohio diesel as guest of the railways president, Mr. Walter J. Touhy who was aboard. Dinner with champagne was served. Informal toasts were made.

Prince Bernhard was twice in the engine booth.

The governor presented the Prince with a green dotted bow tie which he said he always wears himself and brings good luck.

Joint Chiefs Favor General Ridgway To Replace Eisenhower

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme commander of United Nations forces in the Far East, has been recommended by the Joint Chiefs of Staff in Washington to succeed Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in Europe, the Chronicle said today in a copyrighted story from its Washington correspondent, Vance Johnson.

Johnson said that Ridgway's name had been suggested to the other 13 North Atlantic Treaty nations, and although approval is expected in the near future, the announcement of the selection might be delayed until after General Eisenhower departs in June from his North Atlantic Treaty forces command.

Clark For Far East

Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery of Great Britain, deputy Allied supreme commander, will assume the NATO command for the interval between Eisenhower's departure and Ridgway's arrival in Europe, the story said.

Present plans of the Joint Chiefs, Johnson added, call for the appointment of General Mark W. Clark, chief of Army Field Forces at Fort Monroe, Va., as Ridgway's successor in the Far East, and for General Alfred M. Gruenther, now chief of staff to Eisenhower in Europe, to replace Clark. Gruenther was Eisenhower's personal choice for the top NATO command.

Two Big Factors

Johnson reports that in "authoritative military circles," which is as close as he comes to discussing the sources of his information, that two major considerations prompted the selection of Ridgway over Gruenther to carry on Eisenhower's work.

One factor is the desire of European NATO members for a commander who is as well known in Europe as in America, and the other is that Gruenther, who is the newest four-star general, has never had a major field command.

The state department's desire to have Ridgway elevated to a command of great importance, so as not to "lose face" in the Orient, after the Japanese occupation ends, also was listed as a consideration.

W. Averill Harriman Boomed In New York

NEW YORK—(AP)—A Democratic dinner tonight honoring W. Averill Harriman may thrust him into the Presidential spotlight.

Harriman, director of the Mutual Security Administration, will be guest of honor at the $100-a-plate affair sponsored by the New York State Democratic committee.

The dinner reflects strong support among the committee's membership to give Harriman the state's 94 votes at the Democratic Presidential convention in Chicago.

Full-Fledged Candidate
Tomorrow, the state's 62 Democratic county leaders meet here to discuss "the Presidential situation."

—full of more party question-marks since Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois said yesterday he "could not accept the nomination for any other office this summer."

And a Democratic spokesman said yesterday that, if Harriman were named, he would be announced as a full-fledged candidate, not as a "Favorite Son."

Harriman, known to be highly regarded by President Truman, worked closely with the late President Roosevelt and attended international conferences with him.

Aimed At Kefauver
Mr. Truman has publicly expressed no preference for a possible Democratic successor. But it is known that he liked Gov. Stevenson and that has been lukewarm toward Sen. Kefauver.

Kefauver has been barreling along in Democratic presidential primaries. Some observers think a "Boom Harriman" offensive will have the effect of a "Stop Kefauver" drive.

The 60-year-old Harriman, still not an announced candidate, for the nomination, said he would "consider it an honor" to be endorsed by the New York State Democratic organization.

Jilted Marine Held
For Bayonet Murder
Of Blonde Car Hop

SAN DIEGO, Calif.—(AP)—A Marine sergeant today was charged with murder—by 17 bayonet stabs—of the blonde car hop who jilted him to wed his barracks mate.

Staff Sgt. John S. Finley, 25, Seattle, was under guard in a hospital where he's recovering from three self-inflicted bayonet wounds.

Mrs. Betty Brown Anderson, 27, was stabbed to death Tuesday night in view of several customers at a drive-in cafe. She was married only Monday to Sgt. Walter R. Anderson, Bellingham, Wash.

Finley and Anderson were barracks mates at the Marine Corps recruit depot here.

Mrs. Anderson as Betty Brown was named "Miss Chevon" in 1949 by the Depot newspaper.

Phantom Admits Shooting Women

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—The man who admits he is Los Angeles' "phantom gunman," the shoot-and-run sniper who has killed one woman and wounded four, gave sheriff's deputies this explanation for his acts.

"When I shoot at women I get excited and get a thrill out of it," Evan Charles Thomas, 29, husky, sun-tanned railroad switchman, was arrested yesterday after a shot in the night narrowly missed a woman in the Los Nietos district.

Mumbling and nervous, Thomas, father of two children and whose wife, Harriet, is expecting a third, told deputies this story:

Eight months ago he bought a .22 rifle which he kept under the back seat of his car. His deprecations began one night when his wife and children were visiting her mother and he felt "at loose ends."

"I remember the first time I pulled the trigger," Thomas said. "I was driving past this little coffee stand on Atlantic. I saw this girl sitting there. . . I stopped about 500 yards away and went into an alley with the rifle."

She had the cup to her face. I aimed at it. I wanted to knock the cup out of her hand. But I hit her in the head."

Trenton Prison Mutineers Quiet

TRENTON, N. J.—(AP)—Officials at Trenton state prison today watched for signs of a break in a revolt by 68 convicts barricaded in the prison printing shop.

The prison administration is "waiting it out" in an effort to insure the safety of four employees held as hostages by the rioters since 10 a. m. Tuesday, when the revolt began.

Reports so far indicate the hostages, two of whom have heart trouble, have not been harmed by the convicts and have even been fed and permitted to secure medicine from the outside.

An observer at the prison said the shop resembled a tomb—"no noise, no faces, no lights—nothing."

The rioters have been without food, water or electricity since they took over the two-story stone shop, one of a group of industrial buildings near the prison's wall.

The rioters are demanding removal of prison warden William H. Carty and an investigation of the institution by an outside body.

High Water Threatens To Undermine Highway

LANSING—(AP)—The state highway department today had closed part of US-12, south of St. Joseph to trucks, as high Lake Michigan water, driven by a heavy west wind, threatened to undermine the highway.

The move, designed to reduce vibration of the unstable bank, followed an earth slide brought on by the pounding waves.

Trucks were detoured around the danger area, and their speed was reduced to 30 miles an hour.

Queen Juliana Gets Degree In Ann Arbor

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—(AP)—Queen Juliana of the Netherlands was hailed here today as "a shining symbol of domestic felicity for all the world to admire."

The personable monarch was honored in a citation as she was presented with an honorary doctor of civil laws degree at the University of Michigan, climaxing her four-day visit in this state.

The degree citation was read by English professor Karl Litzberg and lauded her as "the royal representative of a nation between whose industrious and courageous citizens, and our own, the ties of fruitful amity have long endured."

After award of the degree by University president Harlan H. Hatcher, Queen Juliana accepted with "great gratitude as a token of the lively friendship which exists between our two nations."

Queen Juliana in turn praised the University and urged its "cultivation of the freedom of the spirit."

Earlier, the Queen arrived by car from Detroit and greeted a throng of assembled students before participating in a reception for University officials and many state officials headed by Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

Her Majesty, Prince Bernhard, and president Hatcher formed the receiving line and shook hands with a roomful of interested greeters.

Following the convocation ceremonies, the royal party attended a luncheon at the Michigan Union, after which they were to depart at 1:20 p. m. by plane for the West Coast and a continuation of their cross-country goodwill tour.

$10,000 Willed For Scholarship

Establishment of a $10,000 scholarship fund by the late Mrs. Albert J. Young in memory of her husband, along with a number of other charitable bequests, was disclosed in a will of the prominent community leader filed in the office of the county judge of probate.

The sum was bequeathed to the Escanaba School District for "the purpose of aiding needy and deserving graduates of the High School of the City of Escanaba in pursuing their students at some college," and is to be known as the "Albert J. Young Scholarship."

Mrs. Young was the last surviving member of one of Escanaba's oldest families. She died at the age of 80 on March 28, 1952.

In addition to the scholarship fund, she bequeathed $500 to the Board of Education of the Escanaba school district "to be used for and in behalf of the crippled children of Delta County in memory of (her) late husband, Albert J. Young; $1,000 to the first Presbyterian Church of Escanaba; and $1,000 to the Escanaba Masonic Building Association "for the purpose of decorating and refurbishing the Men's Clubroom" of the Escanaba Masonic Temple.

The will also provided for a bequest of $1,000 to the Masonic Home of Alma, Mich., and $500 to the Shrine Hospital of Chicago.

She stipulated that the sum of $10,000 of the scholarship bequest be held and invested by the Board of Education as a perpetual fund, "the principal of which shall be forever kept inviolate, and income thereof shall be used" as scholarship finances.

Plan Scouters Training Day

A one-day training session for Scouters of Red Buck District will be held in First Presbyterian church hall in Escanaba on Thursday, April 24, one of several scheduled for Scouters in the Hiawathaland Council comprising the Upper Peninsula.

The course to be held in Escanaba will be conducted from 1:30 to 9:30 p. m. with supper served at the church.

Scouters who are interested in attending and who have not yet received information concerning the session are asked to contact District Scout Commissioner Glen Leonard of Escanaba. Red Buck District includes Delta, Schoolcraft and North Menominee counties.

The training day program will be conducted by a member of the national staff of the Boy Scouts of America, assisted by six professional Scouters from the Upper Peninsula. Jack Ehea of Chicago will head the training staff.

Arrest Marquette Man In Car Theft

Louis Starnes, 28, of West Marquette, today was returned there to face a charge of car theft following his arrest and the recovery of the stolen car yesterday, after noon in Escanaba.

Escanaba police arrested Starnes in a home at 301 North Tenth St. in front of which the car was parked.

Earlier in the day police had received a report that a car bearing the license number corresponding to the stolen car was being operated recklessly in North Escanaba.

Starnes was returned to Marquette by Police Chief Donald McCormick of that city.

Load Timbers For Raising Dock At Washington Island

The ferry C. G. Richter of Washington Island today loaded timbers at Escanaba for raising the ferry dock at the Island, now too low because of the rising Lake Michigan waters.

Thirty large timbers salvaged from the wartime Escanaba ore dock project were purchased for the job.

Aboard the ferry were Capt. Carl G. Richter and his son, Arni. The Richters operate daily ferry service between Washington Island and Door county mainland.

Escanaba Hit By 'Dog Days'

Escanaba dogs and April "dog days" are the cause of many complaints to the Police Department—with no possibility of corrective action under law until the city dog enforcement ordinance goes into effect May 1.

The law provides that dogs must be confined or controlled during night hours and the year around; but they may roam at will during daylight hours except from May 1 to October 1 of each year.

During the five-month period the owners must keep their dogs confined or on leash both day and night, according to Safety Director Glen Leonard.

Besides the large number of complaints concerning lawn, plants and other property damage, there are reports of dogs annoying and biting children.

Police were advised in the latest incident that Ronald Wicks, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. V. O. Wicks of 910 South 13th St., had been bitten by a dog owned by Clauton Matheson of 1213 1/2 South Tenth St. The dog was ordered confined for 10 days to determine if it is rabid.

The safety director said the police will follow the policy of the past three years in enforcing the dog ordinance starting May 1—the arrest of dog owners who permit their pets to roam in violation of the law. The owners will be brought to court for the violation. Until May 1, however, dog owners can let their pets roam during the day without restriction — if they want to risk the ire of their neighbors.

Where there is dog damage the state law provides that the injured party may make a claim for damages to the county.

Lindenthal Brothers Answer Complaint In Suit For Accounting

Denial by Frank J. Lindenthal and George D. Lindenthal of most of the allegations in a suit for an accounting instituted by the executor of the estate of John P. Norton is contained in answer filed in Delta county Circuit Court.

Atty. James E. Frost, executor of the Norton estate, is plaintiff in the action to have the Lindenthal brothers account for their handling of the funds of Norton and of his estate.

The defendants are the Lindenthals and the Delta Broadcasting Company. Separate answers were filed by the Lindenthals in answer to the plaintiff's bill of complaint.

The suit was originated in May, 1950 by Norton who was then publisher of the Escanaba Daily Press and president of the broadcasting company. He died July 12, 1950.

Norton's "Assistant"
Norton bequeathed his estate, including the Escanaba Daily Press, stock in Delta Broadcasting Company, and other properties, almost in its entirety, to the Escanaba school district to establish the Anna C. Norton scholarship fund as memorial to his wife.

In the answer, Frank J. Lindenthal denied that he was a "bookkeeper" during the first six years of his employment by Norton, and described his position as "assistant to Mr. Norton in the management of the functions of the corporation"—the Daily Press.

He declared that Norton in his passing years "continued to be interested in and reasonably active in the conduct of the affairs of the Escanaba Daily Press and in the formulation of many policies up to a short time before his death." He denied that he was in "sole charge of executive duties and functions of the newspaper" between 1940 and on/about Feb. 21, 1950 as cited in the bill of complaint.

Denies Audit Request
In his answer, George D. Lindenthal denied being employed by his brother, Frank D. Lindenthal, on the Daily Press and contended that he was employed by John Norton in 1935 and continued to be an employee in various capacities.

He further denied that he was "promotion manager of the newspaper" although he admitted that "such title could have been given him with reason, although never bestowed."

Replying to the bill of complaint allegation that he hindered and obstructed auditors of Norton and of the estate "from making a proper audit" of the books of the broadcasting company, he "denies Norton requested him to permit an audit to be made, individually; and further denies that he has sufficient information or knowledge to form a belief as to whether John P. Norton authorized the audit."

Did Not "Misrepresent"
To the plaintiff's belief, stated in the bill of complaint, that the brothers did so "misrepresent and misinform" Norton that he believed that permission would not be granted by the Federal Communications Commission to operate WDBC if Norton (as a newspaper and publisher) held more than fifty per cent of the stock, defendant Frank Lindenthal entered a denial.

He admitted, however, that Norton was informed that ownership of a newspaper by an applicant is considered and investigated by the FCC prior to granting permission to buy a radio station.

The bill of complaint filed Jan. 31, 1952 by Atty. James E. Frost, executor of the estate, cites that in the purchase of WDBC Norton paid a sum of $30,430.69 toward acquisition of stock but that Frank Lindenthal caused only 61 shares of a total of 134 to be placed in Norton's name; while 72 shares were issued to Frank Lindenthal and one to William J. Duchaine. Purchase price of Delta Broadcasting Company was $39,999.

Claim Stock Ownership
In answer to this claim, Frank Lindenthal denied the division of stock was caused by him, but held that the division was the result of an agreement between the three purchasers.

He admitted that the allocation of stock does not bear a "direct proportion to amounts of money then paid by Norton and the defendant" and declared that the distribution was a result of agreement between the parties which related to "considerations other than the payment of the purchasing price."

He further admitted rightful ownership of stock held by him and that he has not offered to return the same to the estate.

Answering the plaintiff's claim that the brothers without authority caused expenditures to be made from the funds of John Norton through the Daily Press "for the benefit of the defendants," Frank Lindenthal denied "the expenditure of funds was made on behalf of the defendants" and denied that his conduct constituted any violation of their duties "imposed by law or fact."

Violation "Unintentional"
The plaintiff's complaint cited that in violation of a court order issued by Circuit Judge Glenn W. Jackson in May, 1950, restraining the Lindenthals from disposing of any stock or property of the Delta Broadcasting Company, the defendants sold personal property of WDBC without an accounting of the sales.

Frank Lindenthal stated in answer that a transmitter was sold together with other equipment for a price in excess of the value on the used market, for a fair consideration, which ran directly to the Delta Broadcasting Company.

He claims that any violation was "unintentional and inadvertent."

Reply To Be Filed
Co-defendant George D. Lindenthal in answer said that "an attractive sale was arranged for equipment no longer in use" by the station and that the funds received therefrom were deposited in the general account of the corporation.

The sale made was an "unintentional violation, if a violation," he continued, and the transaction was made, "in good faith and prudent fashion to the benefit of the corporation."

The defendants' answer will be followed by a reply from the plaintiff to be filed next week with the county clerk.

The accounting suit was placed on the docket of the February term of Delta County Circuit Court but was continued by consent to the May term of Court. The next term opens here May 12.

John G. Erickson's Candidacy Based On Republican Principles

JOHN G. ERICKSON, Escanaba attorney who today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Congress, is well known in Delta County as a conscientious young lawyer. His major handicap in the approaching contest is the fact that he is not as well known in other areas of the congressional district as Victor Knox, of Sault Ste. Marie, the speaker of the Michigan House of Representatives, who also has announced his candidacy for the congressional seat to be vacated by Rep. Charles E. Potter, of Cheboygan.

In the weeks prior to the primary election, Attorney Erickson faces the task of acquainting the voters throughout the large 11th district, the eastern half of the Upper Peninsula and the northern counties of the Lower Peninsula, with his personality and his program. How well he can succeed in this task will determine to a great extent the success of his political efforts.

Erickson's Republicanism and his enthusiasm for the principles of the Republican party cannot be challenged. He has been active in Republican circles in Delta County for a number of years and has served as chairman of the Delta County Republican Committee for the past two years.

He is very familiar with the procedures and the problems of a representative in Congress, partly as a result of a long and close friendship with the incumbent, Rep. Charles E. Potter, who has decided to relinquish his congressional seat to be a candidate for the U. S. Senate.

Attorney Erickson is a war veteran, having served with honor and distinction in the U. S. Navy in World War II. He was chairman of the veterans housing program in Escanaba in the early postwar years and is familiar with veterans problems in general. Like Rep. Potter, also a war veteran, Erickson is a friend of veterans but, also like Rep. Potter, he is not subservient to the veterans' lobby.

The Escanaba attorney is a staunch advocate of social progress but an equally staunch opponent of socialism. He believes that federal governmental bureaucracy has insidiously weakened the free enterprise system in America and has fastened tentacles around the traditional liberties of the individual citizen.

Can't Tell 'Weather' From Red Peace Zephyrs

BREEZES which seem to bear a hope of peace are blowing in from the East these days. But spring and Joe Stalin being the unpredictable institutions they are, it's hard at this time to tell a peace breeze from another April wind.

The latest zephyr, from Moscow bears tidings that the retiring Indian ambassador there says Stalin believes there's no major world problem which can't be solved by negotiation.

The diplomat, Sir Sarvapalli Radhakrishnan, who based his statements on a farewell interview with Stalin, said the Russian leader thought "every effort" should be made to get leaders of major nations together to talk things over.

Later, in London, Prime Minister Churchill said he would be willing to sit down and talk peace with Stalin "if the circumstances and the situation were favorable." That qualification, of course, could mean almost anything, but at least Churchill didn't take a negative attitude.

What gives the Indian ambassador's statement some point, is that it follows shortly after Stalin, unexpectedly as a spring squall, chose to answer a series of questions sent to him by a group of American newspaper editors.

True, he didn't say much. Rather, it was what he didn't say that gave some reason for optimism. He indicated his belief that another world war was growing no closer. He said nothing particularly ominous.

These things in themselves signify little. The world has tried too long to read hope into the breezes from off the Russian plains. But hope springs eternal, and what season is more eternally fraught with hope than spring?

Which brings us to another point for optimism. Observers in Korea report a persistent, if almost indefinite, feeling that an armistice there is not far off, despite the continued deadlock in formal negotiations.

Reporters on the scene say there are indications the Communists appear ready to make possible compromises. This cautious optimism was based partly on radio broadcasts from China that the Reds will grant immunity to all prisoners returned by the Allies.

But any political weatherman specializing in the Communist climate is well aware of the phenomenon of bewildering Red winds blowing from all quarters at the same time, sometimes signifying little, sometimes meaning much.

And it would be a foolish forecaster, indeed, who, in this tricky month of April, would say what the present winds portend. They could mean that the "spring" of peace is really here, or they could mean only that the worst of the "winter" of war is over. At worst, they could mean that we'll have another heavy snow before "summer" really comes.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—One of this column's first exposes of tax fraud four years ago was the story of two highway contractors, W. J. Hardy and F. McKenzie Davison, who built the winding labyrinth of asphalt roads around the giant Pentagon building during the war and then sneaked out of paying taxes to Uncle Sam.

Following publication of their tax chisel, the two gentlemen from Virginia went to jail—though not until after a suspiciously long delay.

A newspaperman always likes to believe that he's ahead of the news, that he's completely accurate and never omits anything important from a story. I am no exception. In this case, however, I find it necessary to confess that I did an incomplete job of reporting.

I thought I did justice to Hardy and Davison but I didn't. One of the most important parts of the story was omitted. This was the manner in which the two asphalt kings scraped up $35,000 in cash to make payoffs and buy their way out of a jail sentence.

The money was sealed in a brown manilla envelope on Sept. 23, 1948, and delivered to their attorney, Howard Vesey. Of this amount, $10,000 was to be paid to the "Democratic campaign fund," and the $25,000 balance to a "Mr. X."

TELLTALE LETTER

Davison even wrote a letter about the pay-off plan. Dated April 29, 1949, and addressed to his attorneys, Davison's letter bluntly spelled out the tax fix as follows:

"When we employed the firm of Vesey, Prince, and Clineburg, we paid a $5,000 retainer fee and later, after several conferences at the suggestion of Vesey, we put up in cash $35,000 to be used as follows: Vesey was to donate $10,000 to the Democratic campaign fund and the balance, $25,000, was to be paid to a certain Mr. X at that time, and who later appears in the picture as a Mr. Shepard, if, as, and when he succeeded in having our case killed as to criminal prosecution. No payment was to be made to anyone, Vesey included, until the case was definitely killed. This was very plainly set forth in the meetings and was distinctly understood by Vesey and all concerned, including Shepard."

That was the set-up by which the two road contractors planned to avoid serving jail sentences, and the most interesting thing is who was to pull the tax wires and get the $35,000 pay-off.

This column, investigating further, found that members of Mr. Vesey's staff admitted receipts of the envelope containing the $35,000. However, they said the money was never listed by the firm as a legal fee.

Investigation also showed that the mysterious "Mr. X" or Mr. Shepard appears to be James J. Shepard Jr., a tax attorney. He admitted that he had been consulted in the Hardy-Davison case, but claimed that he participated in only one conference, decided they were guilty, and so advised them.

KANSAS CITY FRIEND

Shepard vigorously denied any part in an attempted fix. Asked several times whether he had ever been offered $25,000—as stated in Davison's letter—he never answered. He claimed he got called into the case through a friend, Walter Maloney.

Maloney is a former Kansas City attorney who came to Washington shortly after Harry Truman became a senator from Missouri. He once served as judge of the Jackson County Court, as did President Truman when he was a young protégé of the Pendergast machine.

Maloney, queried about the case, said he and Shepard were supposed to split the fee 50-50, but in the end he was paid nothing. He denied using any influence, explained that the case "had gone too far, was in the penal division, and there was too much of a record on it."

When the above maneuvers didn't work, the two asphalt kings tried potent Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia. Byrd stated afterward that he gave them no aid.

In the end, efforts to pull wires could not stand up against the persistence of T-men and the spotlight of publicity. Though there were months of delay, and though U. S. Attorney George Humrickhouse in Richmond held off prosecution an unusually long time, the two asphalt kings eventually got a couple of years in jail.

Dacron, Newest Wrinkle In Men's Clothes, Never Loses Its Crease

By RICHARD KLEINER

NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (NEA)—Spencer Witty took out his fountain pen and calmly emptied its inky contents on a pair of tan slacks spread across his desk. Then he carefully spilled some iodine and mercuric iodine on them. He watched the stains soak in.

"I guess that's messy enough," he said. He took the slacks to a sink and washed them in lukewarm water and soap. He wrung the water out with his hands. Then he hung the slacks up.

When they dried, the crease was sharp, there were no wrinkles, and the ink, iodine and mer-

DACRON DUNKER: When Spencer Witty hung up the slacks, the spots were gone, but the crease was still there.

curochrome stains had vanished. Witty was demonstrating Dacron, a fiber that may do for men's suits what nylon did for women's stockings. It holds its crease even in the rain. Spots can be washed out easily. It is mothproof.

Dacron is technically a polyester fiber, made by du Pont out of coal, air and petroleum. They poured $7,000,000 into its development—including $650,000 to produce a blue dye that would take—but there still isn't very much Dacron around.

Witty's firm (Witty Brothers), the only tailors making 100 per cent Dacron suits, turned out 200 in 1950 as an experiment. Last year, they made 2500. This year, they'll make 12,000 suits and 12,000 pairs of slacks. So far, all the garments have been Summer weight.

The raw material for them has been produced by duPont at a pilot plant in Seaford, Del. They are building a $33,000,000 factory at Kinston, N. C., on a 635-acre tract. By the middle of 1953, this will be completed and begin turning out 35,000,000 pounds of Dacron a year.

Perhaps then the price will begin to come down. Right now, all Dacron suits are out of the reach of most men. One yard of Dacron fabric costs as much as one-and-a-half yards of the finest imported English woolen. Witty's price tag this summer will be $82.50 for a suit, $26.50 for slacks. But Dacron owners say they can get by on a smaller wardrobe and claim they save money because Dacrons don't have to be pressed so often.

This high price is due mainly to the limited quantity of Dacron presently available. But one other factor may mean the price will be slow in coming down, even when quantity production is here. A suit manufacturer can't just begin feeding Dacron fabric into his old machines; he had to install new equipment and use new methods.

Spectacular as Witty's ink-and-iodine show is, duPont doesn't go overboard on its claim for the fiber. All they'll say is that Dacron appears to have "an ease of removal of spots by washing without need of ironing." They do stress its resilience, saying there is a "high wrinkle resistance and press retention" even in wet and humid weather.

But Dacron has drawbacks, which duPont chemists are frantically attempting to remedy. One is that a cigarette spark will melt a small hole, like a moth hole, in the fabric. It won't burst into flames, however. Dacron is also prone to the accumulation of static electricity.

Both those drawbacks are presently avoided by blending Dacron with, for example, wool. Such blends, while cutting down Dacron's crease resistance and washability, also add to its feel and appearance.

Witty doubts that Dacron will lead to a completely home washable suit, although he admits it's a possibility. Every part of the suit—including lining and thread—would have to be Dacron. Witty's slacks are made that way, even to special all-Dacron zipper binding, but the suits have conventional linings.

He recommends that the slacks, even though theoretically washable, be dry cleaned. That's because home washing puts too much strain on the sewing. Especially when housewives ignore the instructions and spin-dry them in an automatic washer (which tears out the stitches) or take a hot iron to them (which melts holes).

While men's suits are its most spectacular use, Dacron has other applications, such as shirts and socks for men, suitings for women, and industrial uses like V-belts, wire insulation and fire hoses.

Dacron and the other synthetic fibers—rayon, acetate, nylon, Orlon, Dynel, Vicara—differ slightly in properties due to variations in their molecular make-up. Some are stronger than others, some softer, some more resistant to wrinkles. Dacron, so far, seems best at holding creases and washability. It is not as strong as nylon or as soft as Orlon.

As may be some time before the final judgment on Dacron is in. But the industry admits the signs are encouraging. It looks like we're on our way to a man's suit that can be tossed in with the family wash.

New Fish Discoveries Add To Thousands Now Known

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Four fishes recently added to the United States National Museum collection in Washington demonstrate the fact that new fish species are constantly being discovered.

Three are rays and the fourth is a member of the Chimaeridae family or ghost fishes, distant relatives of the shark.

There are already more than 40,000 different kinds of known fishes, and science is still at work classifying the world's seemingly numberless under-water creatures, says the National Geographic Society.

Five Major Classes

To most people, whose knowledge of fish comes primarily from those they see on dinner tables or catch in a walk through the forest of fish classes, families, and species appears too complicated for pleasure. In recent years, however, ichthyologists have established some paths which the curious may stroll in search for understanding of an animal that claims nearly twice as many varieties as birds, mammals and amphibians put together.

As with other animals, the roots of the fish family tree are buried far back in geological time. Through the ages this tree has put forth innumerable branches, some of which can be seen today. Although all fish may have evolved from a common ancestor, known varieties are divided by scientists into five major classes.

The first, Placoderm, appears to be extinct and is known only through fossils. In the second great branch, Marsipobranch, the only living families are the lampreys and hagfishes.

Bony Fishes Blooming

The third arm of the tree, Selachii, is covered with four smaller branches, the first three of which are extinct. The last, Euselachii, is well-known, however, and alive with growing twigs. Here are found the many types of sharks and the two known sub-orders of rays.

The fourth of the fish tree's five major arms is called the Holoccephali, once believed a part of the Selachii branch. The Chimaeridae family grows here among the dead-wood of a host of extinct forms.

The most vigorous and blooming of all the tree's growth is on the fifth and final branch where dwell Pisces, the bony fishes. Of the Pisces branch's three arms, two contain very few live fishes. However, the third, Neopterygii, flourishes with some 31 off-shoots. Here are found the many varieties of fishes that inhabit the streams, lakes, rivers, and coastal waters of America.

FIRST AUTO—Roy W. Carlson former Escanaba resident, writing from his home in Auburn, Ind., reports the first automobile in Escanaba was (to the best of his recollection) the "Orient Buckboard."

If present-day auto owners never heard of the Orient they should not be ashamed of their ignorance. There were many makes in the field in the pioneer days of the auto in America.

Carlson points to a source of information, however, for those who are interested in the subject. It is the Fawcett book, "The Oldtime Automobile," and a picture of the Orient appears on page 130.

"I believe this was one of the first of two or three automobiles in Escanaba almost 50 years ago," Carlson writes.

PAGE OF HISTORY — Carlson's comments concerning the early days of the automobile in Escanaba should revive interest in a subject of historical interest—about which very little is on record.

Advent of the auto, destined to change the daily lives of millions of people, was exciting news 50 years ago. Today it is only dimly remembered.

"I believe the owner of the Orient Buckboard was a printer, but of this I am not certain," Carlson continues. "Someone may recall the owner's name."

"At this time the elder Dr. Banks, I believe, had one of those early ones—make not known—also Dr. Charles Long bought one of the early ones."

"They were all one-seaters, but perhaps one had a 'back-to-back' seat, hence actually a two-seater. I do not remember the make of these cars—but I do remember that Orient Buckboard."

THE TWO-SEATER—Mrs. Edward F. Bolger of 506 South Ninth St., recalls the "first" automobile in Escanaba, owned by the elder Dr. Banks, as Carlson reports.

The Bolgers and Banks were neighbors and Mrs. Bolger remembers seeing the Dr. Banks family out for a spin—with the children perched in a seat in front. Perhaps it was this two-seater that Carlson writes about.

In those days, of course, the auto was strictly a mode of summertime transportation. It would not be until about 1918 that roads would be snowplowed (and then only limited mileage) for the first time.

CHAIN PULL STARTER—In a postscript to his letter Carlson wrote:

"A. E. Moore, then manager of the Street Car Company, had one of those Sears cars with the chain pull starter. Ask Con Driscoll about this—and greet him for me."

Com remembered both the car with the chain pull starter and Roy Carlson who (he recalled) worked here for the old Street Car Company.

REALLY THE FIRST—Following along in our chain of contacts in connection with early autos in Escanaba, we talked with Dr. R. H. Banks, son of the late Dr. F. A. Banks.

"My father did own the first car in Escanaba, and it arrived here on June 2, 1902," Dr. Banks said.

"It was a Knoxmobile, called the Stanhope model, powered by a one-cylinder air-cooled motor—guaranteed to go 30 miles an hour. There was a high seat in the middle and another seat in front that turned down."

The auto came to Escanaba on a Soo Line railway car and created a sensation in the community, Dr. Banks recalls.

But what about the Orient Buckboard named by Carlson as the first auto in Escanaba? That came a few cars later and was owned by George Preston, Escanaba druggist (not a printer).

So the trail ends for the time being, with thanks to Roy Carlson for pointing the way toward an interesting project for the Delta County Historical Society.

STRETCHING THE TRUTH

How often do we feel that we've been stretching the truth in something we've said, that we've said something with tongue in cheek, being mild hypocrites, saying something that doesn't fully convey our real meaning.

I thought of that the other day in the office of a friend when, by telephone, he "congratulated" a man upon his appointment to a certain political office. Now I knew, and my friend knew, that this man not only did not deserve the appointment, but also that he was not qualified for it. My friend felt no personal pleasure over the appointment, so "congratulate" (congrat-choo-late), which indicates a sharing of happiness, a sympathetic joy, was not the ideal word for the situation.

He could, quite properly, have "complimented" his acquaintance, but "compliment" (COM-pli-ment) is rather cold and formal. This tribute of courtesy was once described as being "usually understood to mean less than it declares." So the acquaintance might not have thanked him.

The fitting word for the occasion was "felicitate" (fi-LISS-i-late), from Latin "felix," happy. My friend could have felicitated the man on his appointment without any feeling of dishonesty. One may felicitate an utter stranger, for all that it indicates is a wish for happiness. It does not say that we feel happy, as "congratulate" does. My friend could desire and hope that the appointment might bring joy and happiness to his acquaintance, and be utterly truthful, but, with due regard to the basic meaning of the word, he could not honestly have "congratulated" him, that is, have shared his joys.

Unfortunately, however, "felicitate" has also become somewhat formal, and is little warmer than "compliment" in its tone. As a result, "congratulate," which does express warmth, has been forced to do duty for all three, and we now congratulate an entire stranger upon anything that may bring him joy. And we reserve "felicitate" for our formal hope to a bride for wedded happiness.

The fruits of carelessness and thoughtlessness do a swell job of upsetting your apple cart.

Teachers Can Handle Subversive Members

THE problem of subversive influences in public schools is one which we believe can well be left with the teachers themselves, acting through the Michigan Education Association. The problem is now before the MEA which is considering a resolution to expel from its membership teachers known to be identified with subversive groups.

The Committee on Un-American Activities, meeting in Detroit recently flushed out a few pink-o teachers in the Detroit school system.

Actually, however, public school teachers with Communist leanings are exceedingly rare. They are a minor problem even in such large school systems as Detroit. They are no problem at all in small school systems, such as Escanaba, because here their classroom activities are under close supervision. A subversive teacher would be exposed in a school system like Escanaba before he or she could make an impression upon the students. And there is no doubt that such a teacher would be quickly expelled.

UNCLE EF

If you weigh a bee-hive in the spring and again in the fall, the difference in weight will tell you how much honey the bees have accumulated. Maybe that's how the colleges give their football and basketball players examinations to determine how much education they've absorbed.

The Doctor Says... Hardened Arteries Are Caused By Calcium in Blood Vessels

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

Mr. C. and others have asked for a discussion of hardening of the arteries. Perhaps it would be well to start this by saying that now when so few people die young from such diseases as typhoid fever, diphtheria, and pneumonia, more are reaching an age when gradual hardening of the arteries is likely to produce symptoms. It is probably for this reason rather than any real increase in the amount of hardening of the arteries or arteriosclerosis, that one hears so much more about it today.

The process by which the arteries become less elastic starts early in life, but it is unusual to have symptoms from it until the middle or later years. Just what symptoms will be caused from arteriosclerosis depend on which arteries are affected since the process is not even in all of them.

The increased hardness of the arteries, or arteriosclerosis, which lessens the flow of blood is likely to be so gradual that there is no way of detecting it until it has become quite advanced. The arteries do not become hardened at the same rate of speed in one part of the body as they do in another.

For example, the walls of the arteries in the legs may become thick, hard, and inelastic while those supplying the kidneys or the arms are still normal and soft.

Deposits of calcium in the walls of the blood vessels is the principal thing responsible for hardening of the arteries. Why calcium should be deposited in the arteries, why it should be deposited faster in some arteries than in others, and why it should come earlier in some people than in others, no one yet knows.

SOME GET DEPOSITS EARLY

Early deposits of calcium are more common in the members of some families than in others. Perhaps also the ordinary wear and tear of living plays a part in the speed with which the arteries become sclerotic or hardened. Over-eating, disturbances of hormone secretion, certain diseases of the kidney, and chronic infections, have also been blamed.

The treatment of hardening of the arteries depends on which blood vessels are involved and how seriously they are affected. There are no established rules of diet to prevent hardening of the arteries or any which will dissolve out any calcium deposits already formed. The proper amount of rest and whatever local measures are indicated is about all that can be done. Perpetual youth cannot be retained and therefore a person with arteriosclerosis must learn to live with it as comfortably as possible.

Artificial Breeding Subscribers Get New Sire Addition

Delta county farmers in the Artificial Breeding program have the opportunity of using some of the best proven sires in the country.

One of the most recent additions to the bull stud of Northwestern Artificial Breeders Association, Duluth, shipping point of semen to Delta county, is Kingdon Naboth Laddie 46.

This proven sire has a ten daughter-dam comparison on production. The average production of the daughters is 505 pounds of butterfat as compared to their dams who have averaged 415 pounds of butterfat. This gives the daughters an increase of ninety pounds of butterfat over their dams and is directly due to the use of this proven sire. The dam of this proven sire is classified "Excellent" on type by the Holstein Friesian Association.

Feeding and management of the daughters and their dams were carried out on an equal basis on the same farm. The production records in all cases are Dairy Herd Improvement Association records, two time milkings and a 305 day lactation period.

Another recent proven sire purchased by the bull stud is "Pabst Burke Belmont Pride." A daughter-dam comparison showed that the average production of the daughters was 662 pounds of butterfat. Their dams average 529 pounds of butterfat. The increase of 133 pounds of butterfat again has to be credited to the use of a proven sire. The daughters and their dams were fed and cared for under similar conditions.

These are just two examples of the type of proven sire service available to progressive dairy farmers of Delta county.

Small Things Help Reds' Propaganda

(Editor's Note: The Communists count on small things to bring them nearer their big goal of world conquest. A worker's complaint in France may seem insignificant in the cold war—but the Communists can turn it into a weapon. The strategy is disclosed in this article by William L. Ryan, second of a series he has written after a two-month tour of Europe, starting in Yugoslavia and ending in Finland.)

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
PARIS—(P)—"All roads," proclaim Moscow, "lead to Communism."

Stalin can wait. While he waits, his Red legions, spearheads for the conquests of the future, build patiently and carefully against the day they insist must come—the day of "world victory of Communism."

"Conceal The Truth"
While Stalin waits, the school of the dirty trick goes into action.

"One should be able to accept every sacrifice; to use, if necessary, every artifice or stratagem, to adopt illegal methods, to keep silent at some times and conceal the truth at others: All this in order to penetrate the trade unions and perform there the Communist task, in spite of all."

So wrote Lenin years ago. This is the guiding doctrine today for the Communist parties of Western Europe.

No issue is too small. No advantage is too trifling.

Jean Dubois, worker in a French metal plant, grunts with displeasure. His pocket has fallen again from the pile of garments hung on a flimsy nail near the shop. He dusts it off, swears, and replaces it.

A Communist cell member nearby notes the proceedings with interest. He is schooled to be alert to any possible issue, no matter how small. Any grievance, legitimate or otherwise, must be used. There is the germ of a grievance here, and the Communist cell gets busy in the shop.

Suddenly there is a demand for racks and coat hangers. It is stirred up to a pitch of frenzy. There is a one-day strike of protest. Somehow or other, the government becomes the scapegoat for the lack of coat hangers. The Leninist doctrine that every strike must be a political one, is in operation again. Another blow has been struck by the Communists.

Blows Are Constant

It is a small blow, but the effects mount up. The blows are continuing, constant. Always the regime is attacked, no matter what the grievance. Jean Dubois, worker, learns to blame his every woe on the badgered government in Paris.

Today, Jean Dubois, metal worker, is being told day after day that his dignity is being wounded. His brother in Italy, Giovanni Verdi, is being told that the Americans are responsible for unemployment and high prices because of defense plans. His fellow worker in Germany, Hans Schmidt, is being told that the Americans are preparing Germany as the battleground for another bloody war.

In France, there is a carefully planned drive against what the Communists call the "cadence infernal"—the infernal cycle, or speedup. Casually disregarding the known history of the speedup in Russia and the Sovietized countries, the Communists are bent upon convincing western workers, particularly in defense installations, that they are being "super-exploited" in the interests of the United States.

The campaign is adapted to the country. Thus, while in Italy unemployment and prices are the targets, and in Germany the specter of a new war is raised, the appeal in France is centered on the Frenchman's cherished personal dignity. This is frequently effective. The Frenchman is likely to get his back up if he feels his dignity and rights as a human being are molested.

WFTU Charts Drive

Lights burn throughout the night in the Vienna headquarters of the World Federation of Trade Unions (WFTU). This organization, now wholly the creature of Moscow, supplies the scientific leadership, the literature, the information, the techniques for the anti-productivity drive of the European Communists. The WFTU charts the overall drive and the organization work goes forward from the plant level upward.

The result is a Europe-wide anti-productivity drive. The goal is to neutralize Western Europe, to render first Germany, then France and Italy neutral in the cold war of the giants.

The tempo of Communist inner-party activity in France and Italy has been rising lately. In each plant where Communists hold sway, there is a central bureau. Up to recently, this bureau concentrated on labor issues. Now, apparently on Moscow orders, it experiments with the political strike.

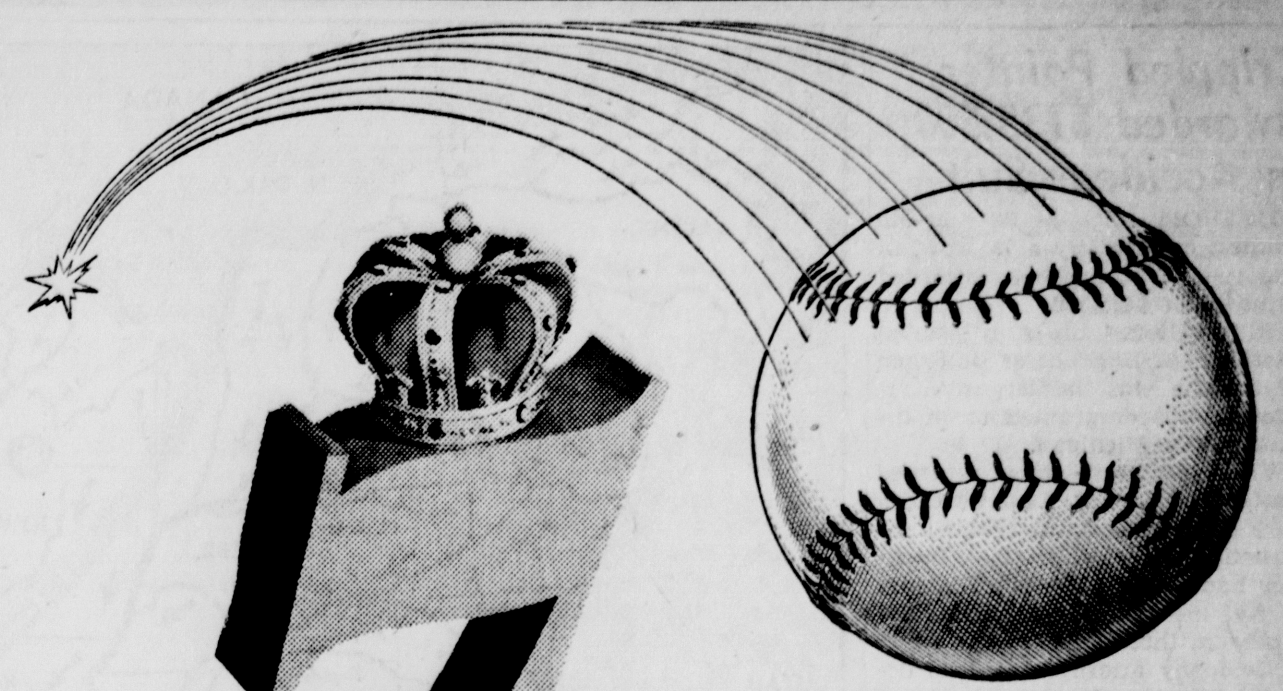

The central bureaus tell the workers: Your government is no good. It is against you. It is the tool of the Americans. It is exploiting you mercilessly so Americans can wage war and make profits.

Crippled Painter Awarded $135,500 In Accident Suit

DETROIT—(P)—A 38-year-old painter, crippled by a 75 foot fall two years ago, has been awarded damages of $135,500.

It is believed the sum granted Clarence A. Buckner of suburban Wyandotte was the largest damage claim ever granted to an individual in Michigan.

The judgment was returned yesterday by a Federal Court jury against the J. M. Foster Construction Co. of Gary, Ind. Buckner had asked $250,000. The jury of five men and seven women deliberated three hours.

Company attorneys said no decision had been made on whether the decision will be appealed. An appeal would hold up actual award of the money a year or longer.

Buckner was painting a ceiling eider at the McLouth Steel Corp. plant in Trenton June 30, 1949, when dangling ropes from the scaffold were hooked by a traveling crane operated by the Foster company.

The scaffold collapsed. Buckner's partner grabbed a beam and saved himself but Buckner himself was pitched 75 feet to the ground.

He suffered a brain concussion, multiple fractures of both legs, spine and a wrist. He was hospitalized seven months and spent five more in a cast at home.

To pay for needed operations his wife, Irene, 37, went to work in an auto parts assembly plant. Their daughter Marie, 19, took an office job after her high school graduation and their son, Dean, 17, works after school in a grocery.

Buckner's medical and hospital bills total about $17,000. He faces another operation.

During the 10-day trial Foster company employees testified they had asked that a safety man be posted on the crane. After the accident a safety man was assigned. The company claimed that Buckner knew the risks of the work when he took his job.

Challenge To Duel Lands Miffed Actor In Jail At Pontiac

PONTIAC, Mich.—(P)—Amateur actor Carl O'Brien, in jail for challenging three ex-associates to a duel, says now, "I've been too dramatic."

The 22-year-old unemployed shoe salesman was kicked out of a theatrical group two months ago for "hamming up rehearsals."

Brooding, O'Brien decided he had been "unforgivably insulted." He wrote a letter challenging William Fogle, Milton Stephenson and Harold Person, leaders of the Pontiac Master Players, to "meet me in honorable combat so that my honor may be cleansed."

He suggested as weapons "sabers or knives, your choice; pistols if you are prepared to furnish them. I do not intend to murder you, only to maim or cripple."

But his three intended targets declined the challenge and looked up the law. That's why O'Brien, unable to furnish $10,000 bond at his arraignment yesterday, is awaiting examination April 22. He is charged with violating an 1816 statute against "challenging to fight a duel."

The law hasn't been invoked in Michigan since the turn of the century. "I didn't know about it," said O'Brien. The statute provides maximum penalties of 10 years in prison and $5,000 fine.

Reds Want Dickers Resumed On Korean Prisoner Exchange

MUNSAN—(P)—Communist truce negotiators pressed again today for immediate resumption of the off-the-record talks on how to exchange prisoners of the Korean war.

The Reds made a similar suggestion Sunday. The U. N. command has not replied.

The talks were recessed April 4 so both sides could explore separate possible ways to break the deadlock over prisoner exchange. The Communists want all prisoners returned. The Allies insist that no one should be repatriated against his will.

The new proposal to resume prisoner talks came during a 2½ minute session of the subcommittee on truce supervision.

Nebraska Allocated $250,000 For Flood

WASHINGTON—(P)—President Truman today followed up his inspection of the midwest flood damage by allocating $250,000 from his disaster relief fund for use in Nebraska.

Truman acted at the request of Gov. Val Peterson. The fund was turned over to the housing and home finance agency for use.

City Buys Park

DETROIT—(P)—The St. Clair Shores city council voted unanimously Wednesday to purchase the Jefferson Beach Amusement Park. Newly-elected Mayor Thomas S. Welsh proposed that the 1,050,000 square feet property along Lake St. Clair be converted into a recreation area. The park now is operating on a partial basis pending a license for games.

TREE OF DISASTER—Resembling a grotesque tree, the heavy black lines on Newsmap above trace the courses of the Missouri and Mississippi Rivers, now swollen with flood waters, and their most important tributary "branches." Black arrows show how spring rains and melting snows in Montana, the Dakotas and other upland areas are carried by one river after another into the overburdened Mississippi and Missouri mainstems. Diagonally shaded lines enclose the six major areas that pour water down into the Missouri and Mississippi valleys. Not indicated are the myriad twig-like brooks and leaf-like swamps, ponds and marshes that feed—often with disastrous results—America's six biggest river basins.

Decorated Soldier Goes Back To Korea At His Own Request

HONG KONG—(P)—British Pvt. William Speakman, winner of the Victoria Cross, is going back to Korea at his own request after almost three months home leave and some 40 offers of marriage.

The 24-year-old Cheshire, Eng., infantryman is to rejoin the King's own Scottish borderers "for a few months more in Korea," he told reporters and added:

"I just want to go along with the boys."

Speakman was awarded the Victoria Cross for leading a grenade attack under heavy fire last April and holding some 600 Reds at bay.

Connecticut Senator Boomed For President

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—(P)—Connecticut Democrats were officially launched today on a campaign to win the presidential nomination for U. S. Senator Brien McMahon (D-Conn.)

They insisted, furthermore, that it was not merely a routine "Favorite Son" endorsement or a smokescreen to ease him into the nomination for vice-president, but an all-out effort to put the Norwalk lawyer in the White House.

The state central committee last night unanimously approved a resolution endorsing McMahon.

DETROIT—(P)—Homeless David Mackie, 54, who had taken refuge in a slum area garage, was burned to death Wednesday night when a kerosene stove he had been cooking on caught fire.

Higher Assessments To Boost Utility Tax Revenue In Michigan

LANSING—(P)—The state board of assessors today tentatively increased the assessment of public utility and public service corporations $22,711,300.

The new total, to be finally fixed after appeals are heard May 10, is $479,654,000.

This would mean an increase of at least $1,020,518 for the primary school fund, to which the utility tax goes. The entire tax levy, on the basis of the average state tax rate, would be $15,640,770.

The assessments included: Railroads, up $8,940,000 to $226,905,000; Telephone and Telegraph companies, up $13,369,000 to $247,403,000; car loaning companies, up $401,000 to $3,745,000; the Pullman Company, up $75,000 to $850,000; Railway Express Agency, down $75,000 to $750,000.

Among the major companies, the Michigan Bell Telephone Company was assessed at $220,150,000; the Grand Trunk Western Railway, $59,500,000; the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, $50,000,000.

DETROIT—(P)—At 102, Mrs. Bertha Lanstra believes she owes her long life to "never drinking plain water."

"But don't get me wrong," she explained quickly to a reporter who attended the birthday party. "I don't mean I mixed it with liquor. My drinks have always been coffee or tea and maybe a little beer."

Mrs. Lanstra, a native of Prussia, came to this country 72 years ago and worked as a laundress until she was 80. She lives here with three grandchildren.

Anti-Communist Bill Signed By Governor

LANSING—(P)—The Trucks anti-Communist bill became the law of Michigan today with Governor Williams' signature.

It requires all Communists, Communist party officials and members of Communist front organizations to register with the state police within five days.

It bars the Communist party or any of its nominees from the state election ballot.

It orders the attorney general to publish an annual list of groups he deems to be subversive.

Failure to register may be punished by a fine of not more than $5,000 or imprisonment for up to 10 years.

The law permits imprisonment up to 20 years for sabotage of national defense facilities.

Williams signed 26 other measures.

Wall Street

NEW YORK—(P)—A short and rather sharp selling wave today in the stock market took prices down throughout the list.

The weakness was centered in the oil and in the railroads with oil interests, although just about every section of the list was affected by the slide.

Losses ran to around 2 points at the outside. There were only a handful of scattered gains among leaders.

The market started mixed and then drifted lower. The selling gained momentum until shortly before the end of the first hour the tape fell behind in reporting floor transactions. It was behind for a period of around 11 minutes and at the worst was two minutes late, the first time the tape has been that far behind since Oct. 22.

Steels were relatively steady with U. S. Steel trading through the heaviest part of the selling off only 1/8 at 38, its opening price.

Heaviest groups were rails, oils, air lines, chemicals, aircrafts, and rubbers. When the acute phase of selling passed, some prices were slightly above their worst.

The market was exceptionally weak the first two days of this week, but yesterday it steadied itself somewhat. Most of yesterday's early gains were erased in late dealings, although the market on average managed to maintain a slightly higher edge.

Brokers contend that the market currently is at a critical stage from which it could break out either way. Bulls were encouraged by absorption of offerings both yesterday and today, and they are hoping that a base for an advance can be built by such resistance to selling.

Flood Ravaged Cities Wait For Missouri's Worst

Bluffs area, the biggest segment of humanity it has had a chance to hit in this outpouring of wrath. A record crest of 31.5 feet is due tonight.

It was a vigil fraught with uncertainty that the huge force of Army engineers who built the walls and dikes, soldiers and civilians who raised them much beyond the original height, were keeping. There was nothing they could do but wait—one of the hardest jobs there is.

They had built those walls and levees originally to stand a 28.6 foot crest of the river, a couple of feet over the best wide stream had ever recorded before.

But the Missouri had a punch they hadn't reckoned with—the predicted 31.5 feet walltop. Today it was up over 29 feet.

At the north end of the Council Bluffs dike standby teams of workmen were building a huge ring of sandbags behind a point where the rush of water against the bank was "piling up" higher than the rest of the stream and actually trickling through the sandbag-and-flashboard topping on the dike. Nearby, there was some seepage through the levee itself.

Truman Demands Speed

And while this war of attrition went on, there were two demands for speed. Speed that brought President Truman, Senators, Congressmen and Governors hustling into Omaha to talk about the needs for stopping these rampages in the future and need for aiding those whose homes in the cities or whose farms are already, or are to be, scenes of misery.

The President flew over the area where the Missouri has ripped and torn at the land and summed it up "It's worse than I thought it would be."

Then he appealed to the seven Midwest governors who were here to join in a fight for flood control projects he said were threatened by a Congressional "economy block" that has wiped out some of the most important projects he recommended for this control.

The President, the Senators and the Governors heard Army chief of engineers Lt. Gen. Lewis A. Pick state that if the 1946 plans recommended by the engineers were all in operation now these river rampages "could have been avoided."

With maps, Gen. Pick, who drew the plans as Missouri River division chief for the defenses behind which Omaha and Council Bluffs huddle, pointed out that in the Missouri basin 50 cities and towns have been flooded.

In short, President Truman expressed his position as "I want to get the job done. There is no sense in fooling around with it. This is the bread-basket of the nation and this bread-basket should be protected."

On the Mississippi the new danger, point appeared to be Winona. The "Ol' Miss" had crested at St. Paul where 5,000 were homeless posing pay raises to the 3½ millions in the armed forces. The Senate hooked onto it a provision giving a flat $45 a month extra "combat pay" to all naval, air and military personnel engaged in actual fighting in Korea.

Elite Group Created

The subcommittee promised these hearings to head off a move led by Douglas to cut deeply into the hazard pay allowances which now range from $30 a month for enlisted men to $210 for officers, according to rank and type of service.

In prepared testimony filed with the subcommittee Douglas contended the hazard pay creates "an artificial elite" in the armed services. Because officers get more than enlist men, he argued, it amounts to "a false super-elite, and a super-super elite."

"The most conspicuous group which does not belong to the elite is the combat infantrymen," he said.

"Those being shot at in the front lines, according to the law, face no hazards, while a flying officer on a routine flight from Washington to Chicago gets any—"

German Native Visits In Rock

ROCK—Karl Scheick, of Berlin, Germany, arrived in Rock Friday, April 11, in time to celebrate his first American Easter Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arne Roine. His brother-in-law, Mr. Jarl Roine, and daughter Heidi were also on hand to welcome him. His sister, Mrs. Jarl Roine, remained in Hammond, Indiana, with the Roines' youngest child, to await his arrival there. Mr. Scheick, whose entrance into the United States was sponsored by the Arne Roines, last saw his sister five years ago in Berlin before her departure for the states. Their mother and father are living in Berlin.

The trip "over" taken by Mr. Scheick included an air flight from Berlin to Bremen, Germany, where he boarded the Swedish liner Gripsholm which took him to New York City.

Mr. Scheick, who is 20 and speaks the English language fluently, says he likes the American way of life and first became acquainted with many of its aspects while living in the American sector of Berlin. At present he is visiting with the Jarl Roines in Indiana but is eagerly looking forward to getting a job and making a good start in a new country. His background consists of college terms in Germany equivalent to two years in an American college.

Street Newly Paved For Queen Juliana At Paramount, Calif.

PARAMOUNT, Calif.—(P)—They're not going to roll out the red carpet for Queen Juliana of The Netherlands here Sunday. But they're paving a street for her to walk on.

The Queen and her consort, Prince Bernhard, are to worship in the $150,000 stucco and flagstone Emmanuel Reformed Church in this dairymaking center of 15,000 near Los Angeles.

The church and its paragon were dedicated last June but the street in front of it has gone unpaved. The Paramount Chamber of Commerce decreed that the street wasn't up to the Dutch standard of neatness. So it got the county road department to pave the block.

Recent rains delayed the work but today men and machines were hurrying it to completion.

Booming Canada Cuts Its Taxes

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK—Booming Canada is showing the United States another trick today. It's cutting taxes and still budgeting a treasury surplus.

In this country, Congress is being asked to raise taxes, and the budget for next year, anticipates a deficit of 10 billion dollars or so.

In Canada, income taxes are coming down, as well as excise taxes—for a saving of from $100 to $400 on cars, for example—and still Canada expects at least a nine million dollar treasury surplus next year.

Invert In Industries
If you want to buy a Canadian dollar you have to add two pennies or more to your American dollar. Eighteen months ago the Canadian dollar was worth 10 cents less than the American—it's gained 12 cents in that time.

American money is pouring into Canada for investment in industries tapping its rich resources. In this country, companies complain that it's like pulling teeth to get a risk dollar out of the American investor.

Some of this urge to put American capital into Canadian ventures (many pretty speculative) may be a "flight from the American dollar"—the desire to put one's money in a land that operates on a balanced budget, can cut taxes, and encourage industrial growth by offering tax benefits to those developing natural resources.

Of Vast Resources
Specifically, the rush of Yankee dollars to Canada is a flight from high tax rates on income, to take a chance on making capital gains, which are taxed at a lower rate, in most instances.

But a larger part of the American investments there are probably based on the realization that Canada is emerging as an industrial power, that it has vast resources which the United States and other nations will need in the years to come.

Unfortunately, sharpies have also been playing this field and in some instances selling all but worthless stock to gullible Americans.

Americans have eight billion dollars invested in Canada. They control about 2,500 plants there, doing a third of all Canada's manufacturing. We take about 60 per cent of all the goods and materials Canada exports, and she gets 65 per cent of all her foreign imports from us. Last year this brought 2 3-4 billion dollars to American business, according to a report by the research institute of America.

Mines and Forests
Canada is really cashing in on her resources now. Rich oil strikes, an expanding aluminum output, large deposits of copper, lead, zinc and platinum are bringing high prices. Canada has 80 per cent of the free world's nickel and 70 per cent of its asbestos. She is first in uranium. Iron ore is being developed in Labrador.

America gets much of its newsprint from Canada. It looks to its Northern neighbor for part of its needs in cobalt, titanium, magnesium, cadmium, tin, tungsten, calcium and gypsum.

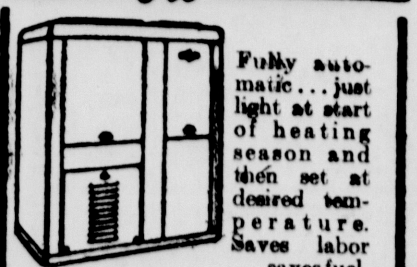

Korea jumped the demand for all these. And Canada, with its financial house in order, is attracting investment dollars from around the world.

The risk in some of these ventures is pretty high — Americans are taking chances because of the lure of lower taxes on whatever they may earn.

The Growth Of An Air Weapon

AP Newsfeatures
WHEN THE B17 took up the defense of America early in World War II, it was the "queen" of the air. Since that time there have been a whole series of Boeing bombers as pictured here. Now there is a new one.

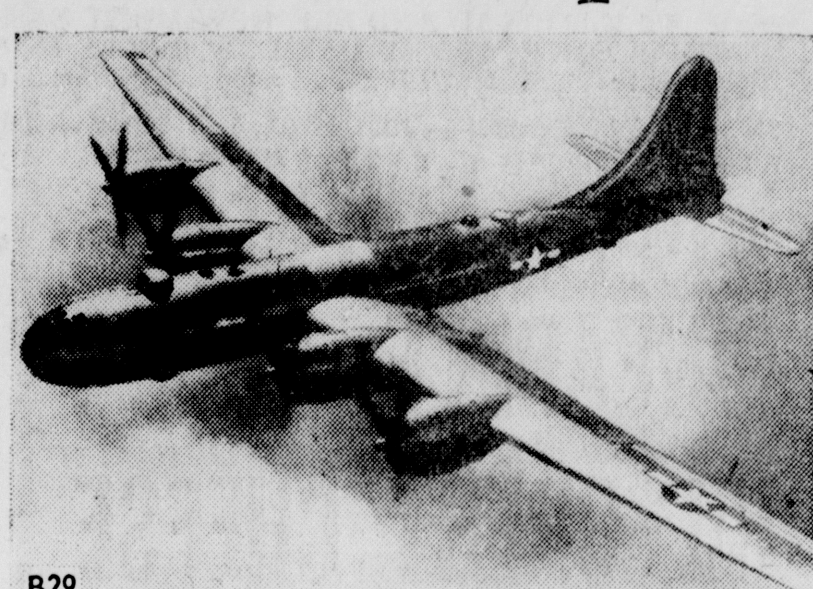

WITH 300 miles per hour speed and four motors, the B17 was regarded as a terrible weapon in its day.

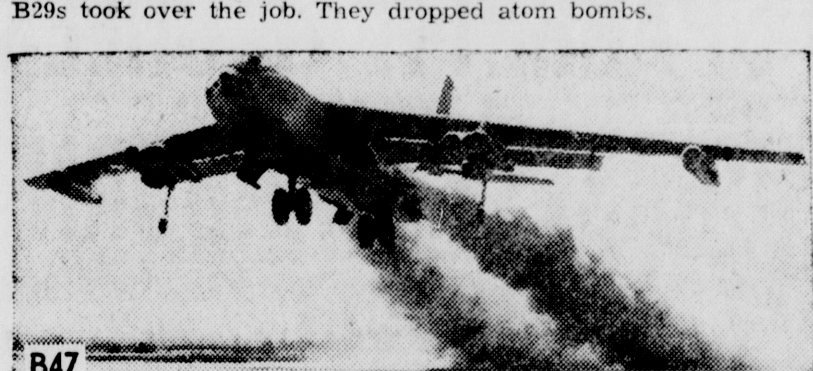

MORE SPEED and more range were developed after the war when the B50 was put into production.

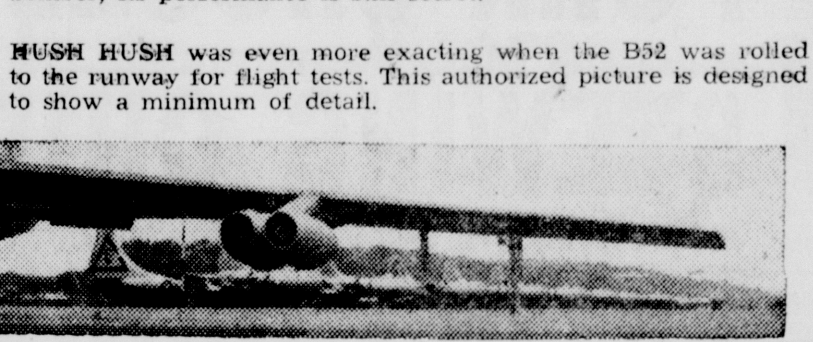

JET POWER came with the B47. Called the world's fastest bomber, its performance is still secret.

WAR on Japan required faster, longer-range planes and the B29s took over the job. They dropped atom bombs.

JET POWER came with the B47. Called the world's fastest bomber, its performance is still secret.

MUSH HUSH was even more exacting when the B52 was rolled to the runway for flight tests. This authorized picture is designed to show a minimum of detail.

His Gun Collection Could Make Big Noise

By JAMES F. TOMLINSON
AP Newsfeatures

HARDIN, Mont.—A boy who trapped coyotes so he could get his first gun has grown up—and so has his gun collection, now totaling 150 pistols, 150 rifles and a dozen shotguns.

Like most boys, Fred Weltner's big ambition was to own a gun. To get money, he took to trapping coyotes out in the lonely Big Horn River country near here, where Custer stood against the Sioux.

Fred soon stacked up enough pelts to buy his first rifle—a .22-caliber Remington. But one gun didn't satisfy Fred and, in time, he surrounded himself with hundreds.

Guns Have a History

A look at Fred's collection is a look at the Old West, for many of his guns have a history. Fred has a .44-caliber pistol with an extra hold on the trigger guard. It was once owned by one of the Younger brothers who rode with Jesse James' gang.

Another gun — a Colt Peace-maker of 1872—was found at Leaf Rock Ranch where Fred grew up. Fred has several old cap and ball pistols, including some used in the '49 gold rush.

A .44 Colt Frontier has also found its way into Fred's arsenal. It's the same type Bill the Kid and Dutch Cassidy used in the days of the shooting West.

Toy-Size Guns

In contrast to the big pistols of the fresh-air outlaws are the little toy-size vest-pocket models once carried by barroom card-sharps. Fred has two gamblers' guns—a little 6-inch Colt .22 and a Colt .41 derringer, just over 4 inches long.

Fred also has the first Lady Smith gun, a .30-caliber pistol rumored to have been the property of Calamity Jane. Wild Bill Hickok was once the owner of Fred's 1860 .32-caliber gun.

The oldest gun in the collection is a .56-caliber Japanese pistol made in 1500. This ancient weapon was fired by wrapping a piece of flexible punk around the grip, threading it through the trigger and into the powder pan.

Fred still shoots an English Tower flint lock pistol, even though it's 191 years old.

Has Strange Specimen

The "pepperbox" or "peppercot" guns are among the strangest in Fred's collection. They have from four to six barrels which revolve as the gun fires. One is a six-barreled .30-caliber Belgian "pepperbox" made in 1800, another a Remington .30-caliber Derringer rimfire with four barrels.

Fred is proudest, perhaps, of his Winchester rifles. He has every model from 1866 to date. He also Demeuse and Clarence, Elaine, Shirley, Jane and Dan of Perkins. Cards were played and a lunch served with a large pink and white birthday cake the centerpiece. Mr. Demeuse received many gifts.

Birthday Party
Sylvia Sutala celebrated her 8th birthday anniversary Sunday afternoon at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Alex LaChance. A birthday cake centered the table for the party lunch. Sylvia received many pretty gifts. At the party were Karen and Marilyn Gibbs, Ann Kline, Carol Depuydt, Butch Sutala, Carol Quirk and Charles Porath, Perkins, and her mother, Mrs. Loretta Sutala of Milwaukee.

owns every model of Sharp's rifle. His big collection takes a lot of care—oiling and polishing. But Fred spends a lot of time thinking how he can get more guns.

Right now he's looking for something a little bigger—a Civil War cannon.

Occupation Housing In Germany Brings Complaints; No Privacy

By BRACK CURRY
AP Newsfeatures
BONN, Germany — They have the best furnished apartments in Germany—and rent free—yet the Americans here are turning their "Little America on the Rhine" into "Grieville on the Rhine."

After four months in the U. S. High Commission's new nine million dollar housing project, many of the 1,000 Americans here are saying "What are we doing in this rat-hole?"

Some of the more dissatisfied go so far as "You can take Little America and drop it in the Rhine."

GRIPEs result from this type of living room in Germany.

about the apartments themselves. One diplomat remarks: "These places are so lavishly furnished that I feel self-conscious. Some people are still living in the wet cellars of bombed buildings in this country, you know. Why, I have a sofa in my living room which is 17 feet long and stuffed with eiderdown."

Children Like Reclaimed Holiday

One of the nicest of May Day customs is the making of colorful May baskets. After they are finished, the children can fill them with candy, cookies or flowers, and then hang the baskets on doorknobs, of favorite friends and neighbors. Everybody has a wonderful time, and a charming precedent is established for years to come.

By ANNETTE GREEN
NEA Staff Writer
NEW YORK — (NEA) — The wonderful quality about holidays is that no matter how times may change, they remain festive and gay for those who want them to be.

Take May Day, for instance. This sentimental holiday stems from the annual May Day festivities in England, and was brought to this country and popularized in pre-Revolutionary War days. It has undergone numerous hardships here in America, however. As you know only too well, in recent years, the Communists have been using May 1st as a day of nationalistic and war-like celebrations. These celebrations have confused the real meaning of the holiday. But once again, there is a trend in America to recognize May Day as nothing other than what it really is—a day that belongs to the children.

Its customs are filled with love and affection. Friendliness and generosity are the order of the day. Furthermore, there are all kinds of delightful events to highlight the holiday.

A little girl must be chosen Queen of the May by her friends. For all intents and purposes she rules the day, and leads her "subjects" in the games and gaiety.

Then, there's dancing and fun around the Maypole. And in case you've forgotten, one of the most important symbols of May Day is the May basket. A May basket at your door promises "good luck" and is a charming gesture of friendship.

Once the baskets are made, the children will fill them with candy, cookies or flowers, and hang them on the doorknobs of friends and neighbors. The baskets offer an exceptionally good opportunity for a shy young swain to make an impression on the girl next door.

All he has to do is hang the basket on the doorknob, ring her bell, cry out "May Basket for Mary," and scurry for cover. It's a slightly different version of a game of tag.

However, the gesture of basket giving need not have "romantic" connotations. The baskets are also intended to cheer shut-ins, the old folks in the neighborhood or to act as a special welcome to a new baby.

May baskets used to take much of labor and skill in the making, but thanks to the designers of one greeting card manufacturer, the chore is now simplified. This firm has created a series of colorful paper cut-outs that can be assembled by any school child, filled with favors and dispatched in short order.

The set of basket cut-outs includes five designs, each featuring a different color and field-flower motif, and children love the idea of putting them together.

This same greeting card company, in an effort to acquaint teachers and students throughout the country with the possibilities of a May Day pageant, is distributing to school principals 10,000 especially-prepared booklets filled with games, songs and ideas for the celebration.

Why don't you plan to make May 1st a day your children will remember and enjoy? For, after all, it is a holiday that belongs exclusively to them.

HANOI, Indo-China—(AP)—It's a pretty tough life being a prisoner of the Communist-led Vietminh in Indo-China.

That's the word brought back here by 103 war captives recently released by the Vietminh forces.

They said they were not mistreated by the Vietminh. They suffered principally because of the lack of food, clothing and medicines and the cold, rainy weather. The former captives reported they ate little except rice.

New Mexico Plans Action Against Roadside Signs

SIGN LANGUAGE—Outdoor advertising competes for driver's attention along New Mexico's highways.

AP Newsfeatures
SANTA FE, N. M. — A national feud has hit New Mexico, but this time it promises to produce a new twist or two.

New Mexico officials will bring out movies to support their contention that they have power to regulate signboards along the highways.

It's possible, too, that they will ask the courts to set a precedent for the whole country by settling the basic issue behind all the legal wrangling. The issue is: Can a state legally restrict signboards for esthetic purposes?

Movies Taken
The attorney general's office and highway department have taken pictures of the signs involved in the suit. They concentrated especially on the chain-type signs described by Zinn as "snake-pit" signs. The shots—both movies and stills—will be used as exhibits in the trial.

Some of the movies were taken from the angle of a motorist, in an effort to show that a driver who read all the signs would have his eyes off the road too much of the time.

Before the litigation is finished, both sides will have their big brothers in up to their necks. Both the National Association of Outdoor Advertisers and the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads—old foes on the issue—have offered help.

Sign Regulations

The regulations ban signs within 50 feet of the right of way; limit the size to not more than 12 by 25 feet, and restrict them near intersections and curves.

The highway commission is defending its right to regulate signs mainly on grounds that its police power authorizes it to do so to enforce public safety and welfare.

The plaintiffs—a group of signboard people and their customers—say the New Mexico billboard regulations "are not designed, and are unnecessary, to protect the public peace, health and safety." They admit their 44 signs all violate state regulations. Some are within 50 feet of the right of way; some are too close together, and some are too long.

State Regulations Suspended

Meanwhile, the state's signboard regulations—which make most signs in the state illegal—are now effective for the duration of a temporary injunction.

Assistant Attorney Gen. Frank Zinn announced recently that he was studying the advisability of basing a new defense on esthetic grounds. If he does so, he is expected to make this defense supplemental to the one claiming police power.

Plaintiffs Contention

The plaintiffs contend the rules are based on a law which violates both the U. S. and New Mexico constitutions. They contend the due process clauses in the federal and state constitutions are violated. They ask that the temporary injunction be made permanent.

Front Yard Flowers Give Beautiful Frame To House

Zinnias and Marigolds Make Attractive Border.

Planting about a house should be a decoration, carefully planned to enhance the beauty of the building, completing an attractive picture as it is viewed from the street.

When tall trees dwarf the house, and over-large shrubs and evergreens hide it, and prevent the occupants from seeing out of the windows, the planting has not achieved its purpose.

Only low growing plants should be planted in front of low homes; and the brightly colored annuals of dwarf habit are becoming popular as the most suitable plants for this purpose. Their color gives a welcome touch, and they leave the view from windows unobstructed. Seed may be started early in seed-boxes indoors and grown to a size suitable for transplanting by the time the soil can be prepared. There are many varieties which will grow quickly from seed sown directly in the border where the plants are to grow, and they will bloom until freezing weather comes in the fall. Besides providing a decoration for the house, many annuals are suitable for cutting, to be used in the house.

The fashion for flowers in the front yard is spreading rapidly. An example of the effect which they produce is given in the illustration. The line where house wall meets the ground is planted with a border of zinnias growing two feet tall, bearing single flowers of finely varied pink and yellow.

Edging this border is a row of dwarf marigolds. There are many other combinations which could be used in a similar way to produce a pleasing effect, in harmony with the colors of house wall and roof. In planting near modern houses simple color schemes, two, not over three, harmonious colors, are usually considered best. Any of the sun-loving annuals which grow to a suitable height may be used on the east, west and south sides of houses but on the north varieties which are known to endure shade must be chosen.

AS WE LIVE

Jealousy May Leave Mark On Personality

By Elizabeth H. Hurlock, Ph.D.
(Q) "My 5-year-old daughter is very jealous of her baby brother. She has been jealous of him ever since he was born, nearly two years ago. My husband tells me she will outgrow it but it seems to be getting worse rather than better. She is like a changed child since her little brother came. What would you advise me to do?"

Mrs. R. O.

(A) Take prompt action to cure your daughter of her jealousy. You have already noticed changes in her personality. These changes will become stronger as she grows older unless the cause is cured.

It is up to you and your husband to see that your daughter receives as much love as her baby brother. Of course he requires more of your time and attention than your daughter does but, at the same time, you must never let her feel that he is your favorite. That is what causes most children to be jealous.

Make your daughter feel secure in your love. Give her a reasonable amount of your time, have her help you with the care of the baby, and treat her as if she were your age rather than her own age.

Never make the mistake of allowing relatives of friends of the family to monopolize the baby as much when they are in your home that your daughter feels left out. Draw her into the conversation and encourage her to stay with the guests instead of slinking off alone to her room.

Unless you counteract the feelings of insecurity that have developed since her baby brother's birth, her whole personality will be ruined. When a child feels insecure, she will lose confidence in herself, will become dependent upon other people, and may even develop a revengeful attitude toward everyone. This pattern is not the type that will make the child popular at any age.

If jealousy stopped with childhood, as your husband seems to think it does, you would have cause for little concern.

But, unfortunately, it does not work out that way. The whole personality of a child is colored and distorted by jealousy and this produces a lifelong effect.

Elizabeth Hurlock is one of the nation's great psychologists, and she will gladly help you with personal problems.

Today's Recipes

Deviled Egg and Spring Salad Plate

Ingredients: 8 eggs, 1 teaspoon tarragon vinegar, 1/2 cup commercially-prepared thick sour cream, salt and white pepper (to taste), paprika, salad greens, 2 small or 1 large carrot, 1 medium-sized cucumber, mayonnaise.

Method: Hard-cook eggs, shell and halve. Mash yolks fine with vinegar; add sour cream, salt and pepper, and beat with fork until silky-smooth. Filling will be quite loose but spoon back into egg white halves, spreading over entire top surface; sprinkle with paprika. Arrange clean dry crisp greens on 4 salad plates, choosing as many spring varieties as possible and including chopped green scallions if desired; add stuffed egg halves on opposite sides of plates and center with wide thin slices of carrot and thin rounds of cucumber. Serve with salad dressing for vegetables. Makes 4 servings.

Common Interest, Choral Singing, Marks Orpheus Club

"Payroll clerk, medical assistant, director of public safety, merchant, teachers, housewives, students"—so reads the list of occupational duties assumed by members of Escanaba's Orpheus Choral Club, which will be heard in concert Tuesday evening, April 22.

As varied as their occupations seem, they are, however, bound together by a strong common interest, that of singing good choral music. Any person who has had occasion to be in the Junior High School on Tuesday evenings throughout the year can testify to the gusto with which they apply themselves to this interest.

Organized in 1938 by R. Paul Bowers, who then was director of music in the Escanaba public schools, the Orpheus Club has consistently presented the best in choral material and in guest artists. This year promises to be no exception as the group is bringing Frances Gilman Miller, harpist of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra to assist in its concert. Miss Nadine Eisner, soprano, will come from the Lawrence College Conservatory to do solo material also.

Although she has accompanied for the Orpheus Chorus under both Mr. Bowers and Sam Ham's direction, Mrs. M. H. Garrard Jr. is new to the group as director this year. A graduate of the Michigan State Normal Conservatory at Ypsilanti and of Wayne University at Detroit, Mrs. Garrard for 10 years was director of vocal music at Woodworth High School in Dearborn. She was contralto soloist and assistant choirmaster at Central Woodward Christian Church in Detroit, accompanist for the Detroit Conservatory Singers, and a member of the Ford Chorus. For five years she was accompanist and arranger for a double trio of girls known professionally as "The Six Sunbeams", their title bestowed upon them by James Melton in an appearance with him on the Ford Sunday Evening Hour.

Upon moving to southern Texas during the late war years Mrs. Garrard became director of the Moore Field Officers' Wives' Chorus and of the Rio Grande Valley Music Club. She has been active in musical affairs since coming to Escanaba five years ago, and currently is Senior Choir director at First Presbyterian Church, and a director of the Community Concert Association.

Mrs. Clarence Moore, a member of the Orpheus Club the past two years, now is accompanist and Mrs. F. M. Fernstrom will assist her in the four-hand accompaniment of "The Nutcracker Suite".

Tickets for the concert may be obtained from all members and at Garrard Jewelers, Gust Asp's and West End Drug Store.

Youth Rally On Saturday Night

"Regions Beyond," a full color, sound movie is to be shown at a Youth Rally Saturday evening at 7:30 in Bethel Free Church sponsored by the Delta County Youth Rally.

The film tells the story of Jim and Mary, divine harvesters, who take the gospel message deep into jungle and spiritual hinterland. The film, more than 14 months in production, was photographed at the heart of the Congo. It is said to be a unique production.

Miss Mathilda Erickson, Sunday school and parish worker for the Covenant church of the Great Lakes conference, will speak. Experienced in Youth and Home Mission work, Miss Erickson is now spending two weeks working in Gladstone.

Special musical numbers will be given by members of Calvary Baptist Church, Escanaba and the Mission Covenant Church, Gladstone. Rev. K. J. Samuelson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Gladstone, will be song leader.

The rally is open to the public.

Big Crowd Attends Dartball Banquet

Nearly 150 persons attended the Dartball banquet held Tuesday night at Rapid River. Included were members of teams, their wives and families.

The championship and tournament trophies were awarded to the Red Shirts of the First Lutheran Church, Gladstone. On the team are William Artley, Denis Artley, Roy Olson, Henry Martinson, John Nelson, Adolph Johnson, Joe Moreau and George Pada.

William Artley as captain of the winning team was given possession of the trophy and the tournament trophy was given into the keeping of Denis Artley, who had the best hitting average on the team.

Hospital Sentiment Is Highly Favorable

During the recent Red Cross residential canvass a check was made to determine sentiment toward construction of a hospital in Gladstone and there were 317 favorable replies in comparison with 51 construed as unfavorable. H. T. Brewer, chairman of the hospital committee, reported at a hospital meeting Tuesday evening at the City Hall.

The replies considered unfavorable included those who refused to comment either way, those who qualified their answers and those who were plainly against the project.

Chairman Brewer said that reports from Manitowoc, where a hospital project is under way, indicated that the $15,000 to $20,000 per room estimates given by officials of the Bureau of Hospital Survey and Construction are way high as Manitowoc expects to pay not over $12,000 fully equipped.

Attendance at the meeting this week was plainly disappointing.

Another meeting is scheduled for next Monday evening at 7:45. All members of the committee are being advised of the session and others interested persons are invited.

Eileen M. Louis Becomes Bride Of Karl M. Schneider

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Louis, 324 Michigan Ave., Gladstone, announce the marriage of their daughter Eileen Marie to Karl Rankin Schneider, son of Mrs. Gertrude C. Schneider and the late Karl M. Schneider of Tecumseh, Mich.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Fr. Michael Collins in the rectory of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church in Tecumseh at 11 a. m. The young couple repeated their vows in the presence of the immediate families and a few close friends.

The bride was lovely in a gown of natural white Italian slubbed silk. Her close fitted white net hat was covered with orange blossoms and rhinestones. She carried a lace covered prayer book topped with white gardenias centered with a white orchid corsage. Her only jewelry was a double strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

Her attendant, Mrs. James Livingston of Ann Arbor wore a gold colored shantung street length dress with a matching hat. Tallis-man roses formed her corsage.

James Randall of Ypsilanti served the bridegroom as best man.

The bride's mother was attired in a navy sheer dress with white accessories. An orchid corsage was pinned to her shoulder. The groom's mother chose a steel gray taffeta dress with red accessories and a corsage of Amazon lilies.

Immediately after the ceremony a breakfast-luncheon was served to members of the bridal party and close friends at the home of the groom's mother, 701 West Chicago Blvd.

A reception was held during the afternoon for the newlyweds at the Tecumseh Country Club with over 200 persons attending. In the reception line were Mr. and Mrs. Schneider, Mr. and Mrs. Louis and Mrs. Schneider. Hosts and hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schneider, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Moore and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rohweder.

Mrs. Robert Laidlaw presided at the guest book. Mrs. Jack Osburn and Mrs. Charles Osburn served at the punch bowl and Mrs. Betty Allen of Ann Arbor, Mrs. M. H. Hanna and Mrs. Frank K. Smith of Tecumseh, cut the cake. Mrs. H. H. Hammel, Mrs. G. O. Butler, Mrs. Frank Purcell and Mrs. M. R. Blanden, poured.

The four tiered wedding cake was decorated with gardenias and roses. Bouquets of spring flowers were used to decorate the tables and the rooms.

The bride attended All Saints' Parochial School and is a graduate of Gladstone High school and the Detroit Business College. She worked as a private secretary in the Physics and Science department at the University of Michigan and recently has served as secretary to the instructors in the speech department at the University of Michigan.

The bridegroom attended the Tecumseh public schools, graduated from the University of Illinois and attended the University of Michigan. He served for a time in the U. S. Navy and is now a lieutenant, jg., in the Naval Reserve. He is in the Schneider & Osburn Motor business in Tecumseh.

Honeymoon In Florida

$140 JACKPOT — Bill Haapala, Traunik, Mich., formerly a timber cruiser for the Bay de Noc Lumber Co., of Nahma, hit the jackpot one day last week when he found a den of nine coyote pups. ## Seek Data On Water Damage

Data on damage caused locally by high Lake Michigan water may be submitted to H. W. Heideman, city manager, it is announced.

The information is sought by the Army Corps of Engineers to include in its study of Great Lakes water damage, a study requested by the Committee on Public Works of the U. S. House of Representatives.

Collection of data must be completed by the Corps of Engineers by April 28 in order to submit the study report at the time established by the House committee.

A representative of the Corps of Engineers will be in the Manistique area about April 21 to gather information for the report, and will confer with Heideman on local property damage resulting from Lake Michigan water level changes.

Sample copies of forms used in collecting damage data may be obtained from the city manager. Information supplied to him should include the name of the property owner, the exact location of the property, extent of the damage, type of property damaged, value of property and land damaged, amount of land lost due to erosion, damage to structures provided to protect the property, and a statement of what is being done to protect the property.

Shore line property in Manistique reported to have suffered from high water includes that of the Ann Arbor Railroad Company, the Girvin Coal and Dock Company and the City of Manistique. One of the government breakwater pier approaches also has been damaged, it is reported.

The Corps of Engineers is authorized at this time to make a study only and is not authorized to construct any remedial works, it is announced. The report now being prepared may be the basis for Congressional action on the problem of high lake levels.

Delia Richards Is Bride Monday Of Muskegon Man

Announcement has been made here of the marriage on April 14 of Miss Delia Ann Richards to Clarence R. Pearson, of Muskegon.

The account of the wedding taken from the Muskegon Chronicle issue April 14, follows:

First post-Easter wedding in St. Mary's Church this season was the ceremony performed today at 9 a. m. for Miss Delia Ann Richards and Clarence R. Pearson, son of Mrs. Gertrude A. Pearson, 1949 Superior St. The bride, chief pharmacist at Hackley Hospital, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Richards, of Manistique.

Rev. T. Raymond Dark was officiating priest at the double-ring ceremony and the altar setting was arrangements of spring flowers. Mrs. Gerald Mackey was soloist and Emmett Friar was organist.

As the bride came to the altar on the arm of her father, she was gowning in a white satin dress fashioned with a lace and net yoke and buttoned down the back with satin buttons. The sleeves were long and pointed and the skirt ended in a modified train.

Carried Prayer Book
A satin bandeau trimmed with clusters of pearls held her fingertip veil of illusion in place and her only jewelry was a double strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom. She carried a white prayer book topped with white orchids.

Miss Gertrude Pearson, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. Her dress of pink net over taffeta was styled with a strapless bodice and a bolero jacket.

The bridesmaid, Miss Lael Richards, sister of the bride, was gowning in a blue net over taffeta. Her dress was similar to that of the honor attendant but the bodice was fashioned in an off-shoulder effect. Both attendants wore picture hats and carried colonial bouquets of violets.

Gerald Mackey served as best man and the bride's brother, Gary Richards, was groomsman. Ushering guests to their seats were Jack Greiner and George Smith, of Ontonagon, and James Spliedt.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Richards chose a navy blue ensemble with white accessories and Mrs. Pearson was attired in a suit in a cocoa brown shade with green accessories. Both mothers had shoulder corsages of pink sweetheart roses.

Wedding Breakfast
The wedding breakfast was served to 25 guests at Lakos Cafe after the ceremony. Chief host, Leo B. Warren, of the U.

S. Navy, stationed at the Naval Reserve Center here, had charge of the floral arrangements.

The newlywed, Mr. and Mrs. Pearson, received guests at an open house this afternoon and also will greet them this evening at the home of the bridegroom's mother.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Pearson will make their home at 1908 Jiroch St.

The bridegroom is attending Ferris Institute and also is employed at the Straayer Drug Company. He is a graduate of St. Mary's High School. His bride graduated from Manistique High School and Ferris Institute and is employed at Hackley Hospital.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were the bride's family and her grandmother, Mrs. Delia Bryers, of Manistique; Mrs. Josephine Lauthesser, of Oak Park, Ill.; and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Richards, of McMillan.

Auks and murrelets lay but a single egg; hummingbirds, two; robins, three to five; grouse, eight to 15. The number is probably an adaptation to the dangers to which the eggs and young are subjected.

Beaver Take Drops Sharply

The beaver take in district 4, which embraces the eastern end of the Upper Peninsula, dropped sharply during the 1952 season which recently closed, it is announced by E. C. Ruecker, of Newberry, district supervisor for the Michigan Department of Conservation.

A total of 1,249 beaver and 76 otter taken last year.

Licenses sold in the district this year totaled 747 compared to 994 sold for the 1951 season.

The smaller take can be attributed to several factors, Ruecker reported. The season was shorter this year, trapping conditions were poor early in the season, and there were fewer trappers, many of whom failed to work very hard at their trapping because of the low price offered for their fur.

The Upper Peninsula figures were down proportionately, the district supervisor said. In 1952 the U. P. license sales were 2,437, with 3,762 beaver and 168 otter being taken, as compared to the 1951 U. P. totals of 3,547 licenses sold, 12,859 beaver and 205 otter taken.

Most trappers were somewhat discouraged with their take and all were disgusted with the low prices offered, Ruecker said, stating that virtually all of them voiced a desire for a closed season on beaver next year.

Prices on beaver ranged from $3 for small to $23 for the "blanket" size.

territory and erect a hunting camp on it as a fund-raising venture.

Final arrangements for assisting the Manistique Municipal Band in presenting its spring musicale last night also were made.

"The need for funds is acute as a result of heavy demands for Red Cross services throughout the

The information is sought by the Army Corps of Engineers to include in its study of Great Lakes water damage, a study requested by the Committee on Public Works of the U. S. House of Representatives.

Collection of data must be completed by the Corps of Engineers by April 28 in order to submit the study report at the time established by the House committee.

A representative of the Corps of Engineers will be in the Manistique area about April 21 to gather information for the report, and will confer with Heideman on local property damage resulting from Lake Michigan water level changes.

Sample copies of forms used in collecting damage data may be obtained from the city manager. Information supplied to him should include the name of the property owner, the exact location of the property, extent of the damage, type of property damaged, value of property and land damaged, amount of land lost due to erosion, damage to structures provided to protect the property, and a statement of what is being done to protect the property.

Shore line property in Manistique reported to have suffered from high water includes that of the Ann Arbor Railroad Company, the Girvin Coal and Dock Company and the City of Manistique. One of the government breakwater pier approaches also has been damaged, it is reported.

The Corps of Engineers is authorized at this time to make a study only and is not authorized to construct any remedial works, it is announced. The report now being prepared may be the basis for Congressional action on the problem of high lake levels.

Delia Richards Is Bride Monday Of Muskegon Man

Announcement has been made here of the marriage on April 14 of Miss Delia Ann Richards to Clarence R. Pearson, of Muskegon.

The account of the wedding taken from the Muskegon Chronicle issue April 14, follows:

First post-Easter wedding in St. Mary's Church this season was the ceremony performed today at 9 a. m. for Miss Delia Ann Richards and Clarence R. Pearson, son of Mrs. Gertrude A. Pearson, 1949 Superior St.

The bride, chief pharmacist at Hackley Hospital, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Richards, of Manistique.

Rev. T. Raymond Dark was officiating priest at the double-ring ceremony and the altar setting was arrangements of spring flowers. Mrs. Gerald Mackey was soloist and Emmett Friar was organist.

As the bride came to the altar on the arm of her father, she was gowning in a white satin dress fashioned with a lace and net yoke and buttoned down the back with satin buttons. The sleeves were long and pointed and the skirt ended in a modified train.

Carried Prayer Book
A satin bandeau trimmed with clusters of pearls held her fingertip veil of illusion in place and her only jewelry was a double strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom. She carried a white prayer book topped with white orchids.

Miss Gertrude Pearson, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. Her dress of pink net over taffeta was styled with a strapless bodice and a bolero jacket.

The bridesmaid, Miss Lael Richards, sister of the bride, was gowning in a blue net over taffeta. Her dress was similar to that of the honor attendant but the bodice was fashioned in an off-shoulder effect. Both attendants wore picture hats and carried colonial bouquets of violets.

Gerald Mackey served as best man and the bride's brother, Gary Richards, was groomsmen. Ushering guests to their seats were Jack Greiner and George Smith, of Ontonagon, and James Spliedt.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Richards chose a navy blue ensemble with white accessories and Mrs. Pearson was attired in a suit in a cocoa brown shade with green accessories. Both mothers had shoulder corsages of pink sweetheart roses.

Wedding Breakfast
The wedding breakfast was served to 25 guests at Lakos Cafe after the ceremony. Chief hospitalman, Leo B. Warren, of the U.

S. Navy, stationed at the Naval Reserve Center here, had charge of the floral arrangements.

The newlywed, Mr. and Mrs. Pearson, received guests at an open house this afternoon and also will greet them this evening at the home of the bridegroom's mother.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Pearson will make their home at 1908 Jiroch St.

The bridegroom is attending Ferris Institute and also is employed at the Straayer Drug Company. He is a graduate of St. Mary's High School. His bride graduated from Manistique High School and Ferris Institute and is employed at Hackley Hospital.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were the bride's family and her grandmother, Mrs. Delia Bryers, of Manistique; Mrs. Josephine Lauthesser, of Oak Park, Ill.; and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Richards, of McMillan.

Auks and murrelets lay but a single egg; hummingbirds, two; robins, three to five; grouse, eight to 15. The number is probably an adaptation to the dangers to which the eggs and young are subjected.

New Officers Are Nominated

Officers for the next fiscal year were nominated by the Manistique Lions Club at a regular meeting Tuesday night.

The new slate presented and accepted follows:

President, Frank Richards; first vice president, Earl Cox; second vice president, Carl Graves; third vice president, O. F. Smits; secretary-treasurer, Howard Hewitt; lion tamer, Dr. C. L. Novak; tail twister, Don Messier; directors, one year, John C. Hanson and Alex Creighton; directors, two years, Dr. Merle Wehner, John Raffay.

The nominating committee was composed of three past presidents, Adam Heinz, C. E. Leonard and Hugh Kennedy.

The group also discussed the third annual club amateur show to be given Saturday evening, May 3, and made tentative plans to purchase a forty of hunting

Beaver Take Drops Sharply

The beaver take in district 4, which embraces the eastern end of the Upper Peninsula, dropped sharply during the 1952 season which recently closed, it is announced by E. C. Ruecker, of Newberry, district supervisor for the Michigan Department of Conservation.

A total of 1,249 beaver and 76 otter taken last year.

Licenses sold in the district this year totaled 747 compared to 994 sold for the 1951 season.

The smaller take can be attributed to several factors, Ruecker reported. The season was shorter this year, trapping conditions were poor early in the season, and there were fewer trappers, many of whom failed to work very hard at their trapping because of the low price offered for their fur.

The Upper Peninsula figures were down proportionately, the district supervisor said. In 1952 the U. P. license sales were 2,437, with 3,762 beaver and 168 otter being taken, as compared to the 1951 U. P. totals of 3,547 licenses sold, 12,859 beaver and 205 otter taken.

Most trappers were somewhat discouraged with their take and all were disgusted with the low prices offered, Ruecker said, stating that virtually all of them voiced a desire for a closed season on beaver next year.

Prices on beaver ranged from $3 for small to $23 for the "blanket" size.

territory and erect a hunting camp on it as a fund-raising venture.

Final arrangements for assisting the Manistique Municipal Band in presenting its spring musicale last night also were made.

The county drive, which opened two weeks ago, is now in full swing under the sponsorship of the American Legion Auxiliary. Corps of volunteer workers are canvassing business and residential areas of the county in an effort to meet the local goal of $2,760.

"The need for funds is acute as a result of heavy demands for Red Cross services throughout the

Robinson Knocks Out Rocky In Third Round

CHICAGO — (AP) — Middleweight Champion Sugar Ray Robinson, 32, but still a ring killer with a quick and paralyzing punch, today was ready for a shot at his third world title after a third-round knockout of challenger Rocky Graziano.

Robinson's execution last night of former 160-pound champion Graziano before a capacity Chicago Stadium crowd of 22,264 apparently was a stepping stone to a June New York showdown with Champion Joey Maxim for the light-heavy crown.

Sugar Ray confessed he went "head-huntin' early" to pulverize Graziano in a brief but blistering bout which paid $82,208 to Robinson and $68,507 to Graziano.

One Mistake
"Ah figured that against a fighter like Rocky, you got to hurt him quick to keep him from getting cocky," said Robinson. "You toy with a slugger like him and later when you clout him, he thinks it's accidental. So I sailed into him on every opening."

It was a miscalculation that dropped the curtains on eager, wild-swinging Graziano.

"See, I bounced off the ropes in the middle of the third round and clouted Robinson good with a right and down he goes," grimaced Graziano in his dressing room. Robinson went down for no-count midway in the third round.

"So a little later, he drives me to the ropes with a left to the body and I figure to bounce off again and give it to him good. But, wham, he blasts that right and it catches me right on the button and the fight is over."

May Fight Maxim

Western Rallies To Notch Victory

MUNTINGTON, W. Va. — (AP) — Western Michigan scored four times in the seventh inning and three times in the ninth today for an 8-2 baseball victory over Marshall College.

Going into the seventh, Marshall led 2-1, scoring both its runs in the fourth on consecutive homers by Milan Zban and Norman Greenan.

Western Michigan, however, also counted two homers. The first, by pinch hitter Jack Dobbs, opened the Bronco rally in the seventh. Ron Heaviland contributed the second in the ninth with two on.

The victory was the first of the season for the visitors, who previously bowed to Ohio State. Marshall's loss was its second in two outings.

Writer Raps Attitude Of Draft Board To Athletes

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK — (AP) — Once in a while a chance phrase will get stuck in a man's mind, the same as one of those advertising jingles on the radio, and he will go nuts for several days trying to shake the thing. One of them gave us a hard time over the weekend.

It began when we read where Col. James T. Johnson, head selective service official in Alabama, had reminded young Willie Mays of the New York Giants that he "owes perhaps a greater obligation to his country" than other boys because of his promise in the sports world.

The occasion was the turn-down of Willie's appeal against being drafted next month. The 20-year-old Negro star had claimed he was the chief support of four of his 11 brothers and sisters, his step-daughter being unemployed. Col. Johnson ruled it was not a true hardship case, and we accept his trained judgment there, but the "greater obligation" quote stuck like a needle in a cracked record.

Tough Query
Just why we kept asking ourselves, just why does Willie owe a greater debt to his country than the kid in the next block who can't clothesline a peg to home plate; we haven't considered every angle and haven't come up with the answer yet. Are boys being penalized because they are promising athletes?

Baseball men have told us this spring that they are, but they have been extremely careful in each in-

Elliott Comes Through With Pair Of Homers

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Bob Elliott's crashing two-homer debut chased the Monte Irvin blues out of the Polo Grounds.

New York Giant fans, dubious of the value of a 35-year-old Boston Brave "castoff" came to the Polo Grounds last night to be shown Elliott's sure showed them. He made Irvin's ankle fracture seem less tragic.

When the Giants bought Big Bob from the Braves, April 8, for $50,000, and pitcher Sheldon Jones, Manager Leo Durocher shouted "he'll be my crusher." Now the fans know what Leo meant.

Baseball Briefs

NEW YORK — (AP) — Johnny Mize, New York Yankee first baseman, has 1,950 hits to his credit today. The slugging veteran connected for a double in the seventh inning yesterday off the slants of Philadelphia's Alex Kellner. Mize would like to close out his brilliant career as a member of the 2,000 hit club.

BOSTON — (AP) — Willard Marshall, the Braves' flawless fielding outfielder, emerged unscathed from the Boston club's seven error debacle yesterday against Brooklyn. Willard went through the 1951 season without a miscue to become only the second outfielder in National league history to accomplish this feat.

DETROIT — (AP) — Rogers Hornsby, St. Louis Browns' new manager, is operating a three-plateau system of his own at first base. So far, the Rajah has used Dick Kryhoski, Gordon Goldsberry and Hank Arft at the initial corner. Arft banged out a double and a triple yesterday while Kryhoski came through with a timely pinch single.

CHICAGO — (AP) — Cleveland's double play combination of Roberto Avila and Ray Boone, which holds the key to the Tribe's pennant-winning aspirations, has held up mighty well in its first two games. Between them, Avila and Boone handled 34 chances cleanly while the Indians infield clicked off four double plays.

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Mickey Mantle, of the New York Yankees, had three hits, one a double, and stole a base in the Yankee win over the Philadelphia Athletics yesterday.

Bears Meet Tonight, Will Name Manager

The Escanaba Bears, defending champions of the Tri County league, will meet tonight at 7:30 at the Chamber of Commerce office to elect officers, a manager and lay plans for the season.

Players are invited to attend the meeting called to get the Bears off to an early start this year. Escanaba will probably be represented by a new group of players this season, as most veteran performers from last season have indicated they would not be in action.

Wilson Baseball Meet Slated Friday Night

WILSON — A reorganizational meeting of the Wilson baseball club will be held at the hall here Friday night at 8 o'clock, when plans for the coming season will be made.

All players and interested persons are invited to attend. Election of officers will be held. Wilson is a member of the Tri County Baseball league.

Mikan Scores 26 As Lakers Post Playoff Victory

NEW YORK — (AP) — "They can't run if they haven't got the ball." That, in a nutshell, sums up the Minneapolis Lakers' 82-77 victory over the New York Knickerbockers in the NBA playoffs last night, and it certainly made George Mikan a mighty happy gent.

"Sure feels good to be scoring again," the six-foot-ten giant said after his team stopped New York's blistering running attack to take a 2-1 lead in the best-of-seven final playoff round.

Just a few hours before Elliott ruined opening night for Robin Roberts, the doctors sewed together Monte Irvin's torn ligaments. They said the 1951 runs batted in champ might be ready to pinch hit in late July. Elliott's performance and this optimistic report on Irvin restored some of the glow of the miracle of '51.

Elliott's home runs plus steady four-hit pitching by Sal Maglie made New York's first night opener a success with a 5-3 win over the Phillies. It was Sal the Barber's ninth straight over the Whiz Kids. He struck out eight and restricted his trouble to the three-run fifth.

If Elliott keeps it up, the Braves probably will swear off trading with the Giants. They gave them Al Dark and Eddie Stanky, the makings of a pennant winner. And now Elliott, who was holding out, comes to life in a new uniform.

Braves Blasted
Ironically, the Braves staggered through a rugged afternoon, absorbing a 14-8 pasting from the slugging Brooklyn Dodgers. The Brooks flattened Max Surkont in the first inning and kept it up all day for 20 hits, including five by Duke Snider and a homer, double and single by Roy Campanella.

That man from St. Louis—Stan Musial—got hot with the bat to drive home three runs with a homer and double in the Cardinals' second straight night victory over Pittsburgh, 6-5. The Cards ripped Howie Pollet, a former teammate, for five runs after two were out in the seventh.

Vic Raschi got the World Champ New York Yankees off winging in their drive toward a fourth straight pennant with an 8-1 romp over the Philadelphia A's. Big Vic owns a lifetime 21-2 record against the A's. However, he needed help from Johnny Sain when he developed a wild streak and walked two straight in the ninth after pitching two-hit shut-out ball for the first eight frames.

Hank Bauer's homer in the fourth inning started the Yanks on the way. They finally clubbed Alex Kellner to the showers in the ninth when they scored five runs and boosted their hit total to 14, three by Mickey Mantle.

Browns Hang On
Cleveland and the surprising St. Louis Browns kept step in their two-way tie for the American League lead. The Indians nipped Chicago, 1-0, on Rookie Jim Fridge's homer and Bob Lemon's three-hit pitching while Roberts Hornsby's Brownies clipped Detroit, 5-4.

Floyd Baker, supposed to be a "good field, no hit" man, won a night game for Washington with a bases-loaded single off Boston's Ellis Kinder with two out in the eleventh, 4-3. Irv Noren's double and two walks loaded them. Julio Moreno went all the way for the Senators.

The Indians continued to get super pitching with Lemon doing the job but had to depend on a rookie from Dallas to do the hitting. Fridley's second-inning homer ruined Joe Dobson's four-hit job.

Hornsby got some help from Tommy Byrne, that good hitting pitcher, for the Browns' second straight win. Hornsby lifted two regulars for pinchhitters in the seventh inning but let Byrne hit for himself. Tommy doubled home the first run as St. Louis rallied with three to tie. They won with two in the tenth on Tom Wright's single, a triple by rookie George Schmees and double by Hank Arft.

Cincinnati and Chicago had an open date in the National.

Former U. P. Keg Star Cracks Big ABC Total

MILWAUKEE — (AP) — Changes in the standings came thick and fast yesterday in the American Bowling Congress tournament.

In the regular team event Monarch Beers of Chicago soared into first place with 3,059. Kostelny Undertakers of Chicago cracked 2,961 for fourth place and Pro Sport Shops, also of Chicago, counted 2,951 for seventh place.

Adolph Carlson, formerly of Iron River, Mich., who won the Petersen classic in 1946, crashed through with 1,889 to grab third place in the all events.

Carlson, before leaving Chicago Tuesday for the team event, badly smashed the middle finger on his bowling hand. He said nothing about it but managed a 639 in the team event. It was not until he had added a 597 doubles series and 653 in the singles that he disclosed the accident. By that time his finger was twice its normal size and extremely painful.

Monarchs won the ABC championship in 1940 at Detroit on 3,047.

Tiger Lead Fails To Hold As Browns Win Second Game

DETROIT—(AP)—Is slick pitching, what the St. Louis Browns weren't reckoned to have—the surprise weapon of new owner Bill Veeck in his bid to beat out the Detroit Tigers and about three other clubs?

The Tigers, who entertain tonight for four games against the pennant-favored Cleveland Indians, won't say for sure. It's too early.

But you can't keep them from wondering if the so-called experts were right this spring.

The experts said Veeck's new Brownie model lacked the pitching—except for Ned Garver—to get above sixth, seventh or eighth place.

But Veeck, hoping for the first division, insists his hurlers will surprise.

Was Wildman

For instance, take lefthander Tommy Byrne, the wild man who walked 150 batters in 144 innings last year.

What happened this spring? In exhibitions Tommy walked only 15 batters in 32 innings—a fifty per cent improvement.

And yesterday he walked just three Tigers to keep the hustling Browns in first place with a 5-4 victory, second straight over the Tigers.

The Tigers' seven hits included George Kell's double, Johnny Groth's one-run single, and Steve Souchock's two-run double in the fourth inning, and four scattered singles.

Art Houtteman, the loser, pitched six good innings—only four balls went out of the infield—but was driven out after giving up three runs in the seventh and two in the eighth.

Today in the series finale the Tigers were to see another lefthander who may help the Browns—former Tiger Bob Cain. Manager Rogers Hornsby indicated he might switch to Duane Pillette, although Pillette's all-time record against Detroit is 0-6.

Hal Newhouser was to test his left arm and his comeback hopes against the Browns.

Pitcher-Maker

The Tigers know Veeck is a master at creating a pitching staff. While at Cleveland, Bill added Bob Lemon, Early Wynn, and Mike Garcia to already-present Bob Feller and that foursome is now the league's best.

The Tigers will face Feller in the Indians' home opener tomorrow. Wynn will probably pitch Saturday and Lemon may pitch one of Sunday's games.

Teddy Gray, whose record against Cleveland was 0-3, will face Feller. Either Virgil Trucks or Marlin Stuart will pitch Saturday. Houtteman and either Trucks or Stuart are Sunday possibilities.

Last year the Cleveland ace's won-lost record against Detroit read: Feller 4-0, Wynn 4-0, Lemon 3-2, Garcia 2-1.

Law Maker Casts Sharp Eye At Major Leagues

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Rep. Patrick J. Hillings, (R-Calif.), cast a sharp eye at the major league rulers today and said they'd better relax a bit if they want his vote to exempt them from the anti-trust laws.

Hillings, a member of the House committee which investigated baseball last winter, labeled the "third major league" for the Pacific coast loop a "smoke screen."

He said he believes it was designed to relieve pressure on the two majors to extend big league franchises to other heavily populated areas, such as Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The coast league's "open classification," eliminating them from the option clause, was only a mild step toward making the coast a third major — an event Hillings can not see even in the distant future.

The House committee has not filed its report to Congress and the Californian said he does not think it will be filed until "the air is cleared" after the political conventions in July. Hillings is running for re-election.

The report will deal with bills providing for baseball to be exempt from the Sherman Anti-Trust laws.

Hillings said he believes that the baseball structure as now operated is a monopoly. He emphasized that he does not want to harm the game, but feels that the majors' territorial claims should be revised.

He said the baseball brass "did not come before our committee with clean hands" when they pleaded for exemption because "in 50 years they have done nothing to change the structure to benefit the entire nation."

Wells In Battle For Spartan Job

EAST LANSING—(AP)—Ellis Duckett, the former Flint High school sensation, was at left end as the Michigan State football squad staged its first scrimmage of the spring season here yesterday.

Coaches shifted Duckett, a right halfback, to end on the theory that he'd have a better chance to show his stuff than if he remained in the talent-packed backfield.

Vince Pisano, the regular at right half, and Billy Wells, last year's sophomore sensation from Menominee, currently are fighting it out for top billing in the position.

Coach Biggie Munn did a lot of shifting of his backfield in the opening scrimmage. Tom Yewic quarterbacked the No. 1 combination with Don Mc Auliffe and Pisano at the halves and Wayne Benson at fullback.

Willie Thrower called signals for the alternate combination. Wells and LeRoy Bolden, another Flint product, were at the halves. Gene Lekenta of Grand Rapids and Evan Slonac shared the full-back position.

Another shift saw Don Schiesswohl, the husky stout putter from Saginaw, working at offensive guard. Schiesswohl was a defensive lineman last year.

Bernie Raterink, left half from Zeeland, and Bert Zagers, right half from Cadillac, both sophomores, were additional alternates in the backfield.

Four Placed On Probation

Four defendants who had previously pleaded guilty in Circuit Court were placed on probation by Judge Herbert W. Runnels yesterday morning. Sentencing of one defendant was continued to the June term.

Placed on probation were William G. Sylvester, three years; Wallace Vertz, two years; and Daniel Gould and Bennett Russell, three years.

Sylvester, charged with breaking and entering the Manistique National Guard armory in the night time, also was ordered to pay costs of $150 at the rate of $25 monthly and to make immediate restitution of $2.81 to the National Guard company.

Vertz, charged with taking a motor vehicle without consent, was directed to make restitution of $25 to the Delta Hardware Company, of Escanaba, whose vehicle he took in Manistique and drove to Menominee.

After placing Gould and Russell, both 17, on probation for breaking and entering the Manistique Oil Company service station in the night time, Judge Runnels lectured them on the seriousness of their crime. "I could send both of you boys to Marquette prison for 15 years," he said. "You have been bad boys for a long time but because of your age I am going to give you another chance."

Part of their probationary sentence is that they no longer associate with each other. "If you are caught together again, both of you will be brought before me," he admonished them.

The two also were directed to make restitution of $12 to the Manistique Oil Company and $25 to the Soo Line for property destruction at a railroad section cabin. The entire amount, payable to the county clerk, must be remitted in 40 days.

Beginning July 1, 1952, Gould and Russell also were ordered to start paying costs of $10 a month for six months.

The sentencing of Albert Gerou, charged with taking a motor vehicle without consent, was continued until the June term.

Women Hear Talk On International Living Tuesday

A talk, "Living International-ly," by Mrs. T. R. Licklider, a coordinator for Experiments in International Living, featured a meeting of the Manistique Women's Club at Lakeside school Tuesday afternoon. Senior girls of Manistique high school were guests at the session.

The speaker, who also is a faculty member of Cranbrook School, Bloomfield Hills, Mich., discussed international living as promoted by the experiment, declaring that it gives carefully selected American students an opportunity of going to foreign countries and actually living for a month with a foreign family.

Before returning, she said, the students "go tourist" and travel by bicycle through the capital and other points of historical interest in the country to which they are assigned.

By helping to eliminate the barrier the speaker said, a feeling of "world oneness" is promoted, which is the fundamental aim of the Experiment.

In keeping with the message theme Herbert K. Peterson sang several Swedish selections, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Arthur F. Hall.

Mrs. Leon Nicholson served as chairman of the refreshment committee, assisted by Mrs. George Barton, Mrs. G. Leslie Bouschor, Mrs. Peter Babladelis, Mrs. Arthur Hall, Mrs. T. H. Reque, Mrs. J. Joseph Herbert, Mrs. Aldred Farley and Mrs. Omer Dybevik.

Jail Two For Seney Burglary

Two young Seney men were remanded to the Schoolcraft county jail in default of $5000 bonds each following their arraignment in local justice court yesterday afternoon on a charge breaking and entering the Earl Saddle Store in Seney early Monday.

The two, Fred Newell Brown, 19, and Mervin George Hollingshead, 17, admitted to Newberry state police yesterday morning that they broke into the store, which also houses the Seney post office, about 2:15 a. m. Sunday and stole approximately $75 from the post office and a quantity of beer in the store.

They were arrested by Newberry state troopers about 10:30 p. m. Tuesday following their return from a hurry-up trip to Flint. In statements signed at the Newberry state police post they admitted entering the store building through a rear door and later taking gasoline from a Seney service station for the trip to Flint. Another Seney young man, a minor, accompanied them on the Flint trip, they said. They returned from Flint Tuesday afternoon, reaching their homes about 8:30 p. m.

Brought to Manistique yesterday forenoon by state police, the two were arraigned at 2 p. m. before Justice of the Peace Victor P. Deemer on a charge of breaking and entering in the night time with intent to commit a felony. They waived examination and were bound over to the June term of Circuit Court under bonds of $5000 each.

Possibility of a federal charge for postal theft against the two was indicated but no information on this was available here yesterday.

Even Golf Pros Make Silly Errors

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK — (AP) — Many a weekend golfer must have read with a feeling bordering on disbelief that two such seasoned professional golfers as Sammy Snead and Art Wall had been penalized for breaking one of the oldest rules of the game in the final round of the Greensboro, N. C., open on Monday.

Home Run Blasts Open Action In AA, Brews Lose

(By The Associated Press)

A home run bombardment got the American Association pennant race off to a resounding start yesterday.

The defending champions, the Milwaukee Brewers, played at home against Minneapolis and lost 11-5. Three Minneapolis round-trippers accounted for six runs. They were hit by Ray Katt, Fred Gerken and Clint Hartung.

At Kansas City the Blues, despite a first inning homer by Don Bollweg, lost to St. Paul, 6-1.

Milt Nielsen and Dave Pope socked consecutive fifth inning home runs for the Athletics to help the Indians to a 5-3 decision over the Columbus Red Birds at Columbus.

Cold weather held the crowd at Toledo to 5,646 as the Mud Hens beat the Louisville Colonels 6-4. Taft Wright accounted for two Columbus runs in the third inning with a home run. The winning pitcher was Bill Connelly.

driven into a lateral water hazard, dropped a fresh ball closer to the green than the point where the original ball had dunked, and the resultant two-stroke fine cost him a tie for first money. Wall drew a two-stroke for using his fingers to impart spin to a ball as he dropped it over his shoulder, thus achieving a better lie than he might otherwise have had.

Why Do It?

The average weekend player has known all along that you can't do either of these things, and it is understandable that he wonders how in the world professionals could have made such mistakes. We would like to at least attempt

Three Michigan Men Seek Olympic Berths On Wrestling Squad

AMES, Ia.—(AP)—Three Michigan strongmen will vie for a place on the eight-man United States team at the final Olympic wrestling trials beginning here today.

They are Bob Maldegan, former Michigan State heavyweight and alternate on the U. S. 1948 Olympic squad; Dale Thomas, 27-year-old Cornell (Ia.) star from Lansing and Jim Sinadinos, an outstanding high school wrestler, also of Lansing.

The three Michiganders complete the field of 160 well-muscled wrestlers who will compete today through Saturday for the honor of representing the United States in the Olympic Games at Helsinki this summer.

Finals will be Saturday night.

an explanation and, in a way, to leave any criticism of the two players involved.

Let us begin by saying that for a period of 15 years or more, and, in fact, until quite recently, the artists who played the big winter money trail through the south more or less made their own rules as they went along. The local sponsors and the fans wanted low scores, no matter how poor the playing conditions, and they got 'em. It was what you might call careless golf, and the U. S. G. A., frowned upon it.

It wasn't a case of certain individuals cutting corners, though there undoubtedly were a few who excelled at it. Large money was at stake, and a player didn't get his share by sitting up nights reading the rules. He couldn't afford to be finicky if he expected to eat.

Newcomers Shocked

Some newcomers to the trail were shocked by what they saw. We recall a night in Clearwater, Fla., a dozen years ago when Lawson Little, just turned pro after having won all the amateur titles in sight, demanded that we tell the world the noted figure he had played around with that day was a flagrant cheater.

"If I have to play with fellows like that I'll get out of this game right now," Lawson stormed.

Regrettably we passed up the story, because it sounded slightly libelous and would have done Little, an old friend, no good in his chosen profession. He since has made the P. G. A. an excellent officer.

Many stories have gone the rounds of the locker rooms, some of them really funny. One player was asked please to keep his wife off the course after several of his wayward drives had wound up in spectacularly favorable positions. Another was asked by his playing companion not to lift and mark his ball on the green, but to just let him putt around it. The point we are making is that many of the present crop of pros were brought up in a rough school.

Extra Hurdle Slows Time Considerably

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. — (AP)—Officials at a college track meet yesterday wondered why the time in the 120-yard hurdles was so slow.

Then they discovered an extra hurdle had been accidentally placed on the track.

No Decline In TB In Michigan

POWERS—Urged to keep up year-round efforts against tuberculosis, three Northern Peninsula TB groups were told that while deaths from TB are fewer each year, the number of new cases of the disease reported in Michigan remains as high as ever.

Groups representing the Dickinson county TB association, Iron Mountain and the health committees of the Menominee and Escanaba Women's Clubs met at Pinecrest Sanatorium, Powers, April 14 to hear Michigan and national representatives of the voluntary TB fight.

Outlining recent trends in the state, James F. Kipfer, assistant executive secretary, Michigan Tuberculosis Association, said the number of new TB cases reported in 1951 was more than 6,000, or nearly 600 above the 1950 total.

TB Deaths Lower
In contrast, he revealed that TB deaths were cut again last year, from 1,270 in 1950 to about 1,150 in 1951.

Miss Carmal McKay, National Tuberculosis Association worker, urged the Northern Peninsula groups to reach as many homes as possible with tuberculosis Christmas Seals and with "all-important" tuberculosis education.

Describing recommended Christmas Seal Sale procedures, she said voluntary tuberculosis societies also should seek active participation in their work from other organizations in the community.

Commenting on recent TB legislation, Kipfer cited one law, in particular, as having possible bearing on programs to reduce the high number of new TB cases.

Construction Grants
Under law, the Michigan Tuberculosis Association representative said all sanatoriums receiving state funds for new construction may be able to shoulder certain responsibilities in finding the sick. Northern Peninsula sanatoriums at Marquette, Ironwood and Powers are among those sharing in the state construction grants made last year.

In accepting the state money, Kipfer said the sanatoriums also were given opportunity to help in other ways within "service area" counties.

He said some sections of the act appear to offer future chances for developing TB detection services as a job of the sanatorium, and added that state tuberculosis sanatoriums may be the first to try the approach.

The workshop type meeting was one of a series being held in the Northern Peninsula. Others are at Marquette, Houghton, and Ironwood.
